NAVY GUNS BACK ROOSEVELT SPEECH

NAZIS STRIKE ANEW IN NORTH ATLANTIC

Fair Enough by WESTBROOK PEGLER

Most of us have been so busily and angrily involved in other interests, some of them quite personal and petty, that the simple truth about this war seems to have gone into eclipse.

The simple truth is that the master of the warlike German people decreed it, began it without the slightest moral or military provocation, inflicted it on unoffending and defenseless peoples and proclaimed in one reckless utterance that there was not room in this world for Hitlerism and Americanism.

Hitler strikes so fast and so brutally that we are usually unable to recall the past in the contemplation of his latest assault.

He captured Austria without a struggle and received Czecho-Slovakia as a bribe to spare the world his war. But he broke the promise and then made a conspiracy with Josef Stalin whereby he was allowed to smash Poland and Stalin received certain cushion states. He had a treaty of friendship with Poland and Poland remained officially at peace with Germany until Poland simply was no more. Hitler struck Poland without declaring war.

Hitler had made a great outcry against Jewishness and against Bolshevism, but none of the nations which he has struck was Jewish and his strongest ally at the start and the one which gave him the signal to go ahead was Soviet Russia. Jews were only incidental in the populations of most of the assaulted countries and certainly Norway, Denmark, Holland and Belgium were not Communistic and Britain was not even accused of Jewishness or Bolshevism. Britain was described with a new term. Britain was a pluto-Democracy and presently the United States was a pluto-Democracy, too.

We seem to forget the details of Hitler's war which should be kept in mind, lest we fall into the terrible error of trusting him. The Norwegians had entertained many Germans hospitably as friends for years and had saved some of them from the diseases of malnutrition when they were hungry children after the first World War. These Germans had more or less grown up in Norwegian homes and were regarded almost as sons of the Norwegian families which had succored them. But Hitler sent them back

ASSERTS AXIS SHIPS FORCED TO SHOOT NOW

Rome Spokesman Says President's Speech Makes It Necessary

(By Associated Press)

President Roosevelt's shoot-on-sight warning to axis sea raiders and submarines drew from a Rome spokesman today the declaration that every Italian or German warship must attack American navy vessels "for its self-defense if it lacks the possibility of escaping attack."

The Germans, rigidly avoiding direct official comment, contented themselves with a special communique announcing the sinking of 22 British ships in one of the greatest submarine attacks of the war on a North Atlantic convoy—an attack they said still was going on.

The Italian "attack for defense" threat came from Virginio Gayda, chief Fascist editorial spokesman.

The German radio commented briefly for consumption abroad:

"Roosevelt's provocations, with which he tries to slap Germany in the face, naturally leaves Germany cool and calm. . . . His entire speech was an attempt to burden Germany now and for the future with all guilt."

The third axis partner, Japan, was officially noncommittal.

The Japan Times and Advertiser, English-language organ of the Japanese foreign office, took issue, however, with Mr. Roosevelt's denunciation of axis "pirates," declaring:

"Whatever else it may be called, the sinking of ships by submarines is certainly not piracy. . . . No pirate ever went into business simply to sink shipping. Loot was his quest. The Germans have not made any profit out of submarine warfare. It has been an expensive business in lives and investments."

An authorized source in Vichy called President Roosevelt's speech "a new lap in the United States president's policy" which he said was "destined to prepare American public

Assert Approaches To Leningrad Carpeted With German Dead

(By Associated Press)

Germany announced today, hard on the heels of President Roosevelt's order for a shoot-on-sight defense by American warships at the approach of "rattlesnake" axis raiders, that German U-boat torpedoes are even now slashing through the waters of the north Atlantic in one of the greatest convoy attacks of the war.

So far, 22 ships have been sunk out of more than 40 vessels in a heavily-guarded convoy, Adolf Hitler's high command said in a special bulletin—and the assault is proceeding.

Presumably the convoy was bearing American war supplies to Britain.

Although Germany's formal stand on Mr. Roosevelt's broadcast was shrouded in official silence, the significantly timed announcement of the convoy attack made it appear to Berlin correspondents that the Reich was trying to answer the president's warning with action instead of words.

Hardly had foreign correspondents in Berlin reached their offices, empty-handed after a noon press conference,

BRITAIN SAYS ONE SHIP IS DAMAGED

LONDON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—An admiralty communique admitted that one "small" British merchant ship had been damaged during an attack in the North sea last night, but naval sources made no other acknowledgement of German attacks at sea.

The communique denied flatly a German claim of sinking 21,000 tons of shipping in a British convoy in the North sea southeast of Yarmouth. No British ship in the convoy was sunk, the statement said.

British naval sources declined to comment on the German report of a successful attack on a great British convoy in the Atlantic.

CASON RESCUES WOMAN IN RIVER

Brings Miss M'Crary Ashore; Whole Party In Boat Upset

Miss Marjory McCrary was rescued by L. D. Cason, Jr., after she had been thrown into the Ouachita river north of the city, Thursday shortly after 6 p.m. She was unable to swim and the efforts of Mr. Cason undoubtedly saved her life, said other members of the party, all of whom were plunged into the river from an overturned motor boat. Others were able to swim and quickly reached the river bank.

The boat, owned by James A. Noe, was being operated by its owner when the craft became unbalanced and precipitated Mr. Noe, Miss McCrary, Miss Georgia McCoy, Floy Bryant, Mr. Cason and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Sparks into the river.

All were able to take care of themselves with the exception of Miss McCrary. Mr. Cason quickly swam to her rescue and succeeded in getting her to safety.

Mr. Cason, a bookkeeper in the Central Savings Bank and Trust company, was being commended Friday by his many friends for his excellent performance.

10 MORE GERMANS DETAINED IN CHILE

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Ten more German citizens charged with engaging in activities threatening the domestic security of Chile were detained by police last night for investigation.

This brought to 13 the number held on orders of Criminal Judge Manuel Montero since an investigation of anti-Chilean activities was begun Wednesday. All those held are socially-prominent persons closely associated with commerce in Chile, the police said.

An announcement said that Walter Boettger, German embassy commercial attache, was head of the group, but his diplomatic functions "place his person as others outside the reach of justice."

SENATE GROUP TAKES RAP AT MORGENTHAU

Accuses Secretary Of Wanting To Use Surplus Cotton As Club

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—A group of senators protested in a joint statement today that Secretary Morgenthau favored use of "the government surpluses of wheat and cotton * * * as a club to hammer down farm prices."

The statement from the office of Chairman Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, of the senate agriculture committee named the names of Senators Smith, Eastland, Democrat, Mississippi; Bulow, Democrat, South Dakota; Spencer, Democrat, Arkansas; Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, and Peace, Democrat, South Carolina. The seven senators, all from farm states, declared that a small group in Washington was trying "to control prices by the indiscriminate and ruthless use of these surpluses."

Senator Eastland said the protest was framed after the secretary of the treasury had asserted earlier this week that release of government loans stocks of cotton and wheat could prevent a "damaging rise in prices."

"Since when have the duties of the secretary of the treasury been so extended as to now include the broad field of agriculture?" the statement asked. "It would seem that the duties

NEW MEXICO WILL HOLD BIG BLACKOUT

SANTA FE, N. M., Sept. 12.—(AP)—New Mexico is making mistakes for the rest of the nation tonight in the country's first statewide blackout.

Those bobbles by 530,000 New Mexicans in blacking out an area twice the size of England will serve as guides later for civilian defense plans over the country.

"The more flaws it shows up, the more value it will be," said R. E. Smith, Houston, Tex., Eighth corps area defense director here with army officers to observe the test.

On their part, more than 60 communities are determined to make good with extensive defense arrangements, including rescue squads, fire patrols and plane spotter systems.

Communities will black out in the path of bombers from the army air base at Aubuquerque. The fantasy is being observed that the planes are enemies from Texas, invading as an outgrowth of the Kotmk-Almat war games under way in the United States army's southern maneuvers. Their invasion paths will be plotted here from reports of civilian spotters.

The whole machinery of air raid defense goes into operation as the bombers approach. Some towns are setting fires, blowing up old buildings and damaging a water main to test defense preparedness.

Traffic on a 60-mile stretch of United States highway 85 between Albuquerque and Santa Fe will be blacked out. In Albuquerque, transcontinental air and rail lines and the army air base are participating.

Blackout parties are in vogue in cities where streets have been ordered cleared for the test, lasting up to an hour. Night football and baseball games will take time out while the planes are overhead.

ANOTHER GERMAN ATTACKED IN PARIS

VICHY, Unoccupied France, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Informed sources reported today another attack on a German army man in Paris in the reprisals and counter-reprisals between occupying authorities and opposition forces.

The German was clubbed by an unidentified assailant as he was leaving the Ambassadeurs theater in the Champs Elysees district after a Maurice Chevalier performance. He was given first-aid treatment for skull injuries and then sent to his quarters.

The assailant who clubbed the German fled before he could be identified.

FEAR FELT FOR EIGHT ADRIFT

Coast Guard Cutters Sent To Search For Missing Barge

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Concern was felt today for the safety of eight men aboard a drifting barge off the mouth of the Mississippi river in a tropical storm meandering along the gulf off the river passes.

The weather bureau today extended storm warnings eastward toward Mobile and westward to Lake Charles, La., as the slowly moving disturbance kept observers uncertain where it might blow ashore.

The coast guard headquarters here today reported the tug Nassau had lost its barge, the Lake Catens, at 5:40 a.m., central standard time, today 50 miles east of the river passes in a strong east southeasterly wind and heavy seas. Eight men were aboard the drifting barge.

Coast guard cutters Nike and Woodbury were ordered to search for the barge and planes were standing by to join the search when the weather permits. The tug, however, reported visibility very poor and the location of the barge was uncertain as the tug had been unable to take any readings for three days. Identity of the men, and destination and point of origin of the tug and barge was unknown.

The United States weather bureau at 9 a.m., central standard time, said the disturbance was central at 8 a.m.

3,000 MEN WILL LEAVE THIRD ARMY

LAKE CHARLES, La., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Third army headquarters announced today that on the eve of the grand opening of the Louisiana maneuvers approximately 3,000 men of the 45th division who enlisted for one year would be returned to their homes in Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona.

"We don't know how many of the men are in key positions in the division," Colonel J. C. Styron, division chief of staff, said "but to take 3,000 or 3,500 men out of the game before it starts is bound to hurt regardless of what their positions are."

The men will leave Saturday and Sunday for Camp Barkley, Tex., to be mustered out of service. Some might re-enlist, it was pointed out here.

The men were being released under war department ruling that extension of service for national guardsmen and selectees did not apply to enlisted men of the 45th inducted prior to September 17, 1940.

AGREEMENT TO LOWER INCOME BASE REPORTED

Conference Committee's Plan Is Above Big Senate Measure

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Informed legislators said today a joint senate-house conference committee had agreed to lower personal income tax exemptions and thus require an estimated 4,911,000 additional persons to make out income tax returns next year.

The reduced exemptions, which would cut married persons' tax-free annual income from $2,000 to $1,500 and that of single individuals from $800 to $750, was written in by the senate and was estimated by the treasury to yield $303,000,000 a year.

Only about $40,000,000 of the additional revenue would be paid by new taxpayers, finance committee experts said. The remainder would come from persons already paying income taxes, in the form of increased payments.

The committee estimated that, because of deductions such as for charitable contributions, only 2,256,000 additional persons actually would have to pay income levies next year. It was estimated that more than 22,000,000 returns would be filed and that about 13,000,000 would be taxable.

Keeping up the fast pace set by the senate during consideration of its unprecedented $3,583,900,000 revenue measure, the joint conference committee adjusted differences between the house and senate tax bills in only two days. One member of the committee told reporters that the compromise measure would raise slightly

TWO DIE AS AUTO HITS ARMY TANK

CLARENCE, La., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Speeding southward at 60 miles an hour, an automobile rammed the back end of a 23-ton army tank three miles south of Clarence at midnight last night, killing the two occupants of the auto.

The dead:

Charles Hammock, 29, 609 Main street, Pineville, La.

Wilbur Van Thompson, 30, same address.

Both were employes of the Interurban Transportation company.

Occupants of the tank, whose names could not be learned immediately, were not injured nor was the tank damaged. Coroner M. H. Phelps of Natchitoches parish said the tank was moving southward at a minimum rate of speed and was boosted about six feet forward by the terrific impact.

The crash gave ginatly proof of the prowess of the army's newest tanks, many of which are in Louisiana on army maneuvers.

Thompson died instantly, Dr. Phelps said. Hammock was taken to a Natchitoches hospital and died at 4:50 a.m. He never regained consciousness, Dr. Phelps said.

Dr. Phelps said the automobile was speeding at around 60 miles an hour and apparently struck the tank at about that speed. The impact buckled the car and drove the engine into the driver's seat.

Army authorities had not made a statement on the crash.

79 Hitler Vehicles Reported Destroyed In One Engagement

MOSCOW, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The Warsaw-to-Moscow drive of Adolf Hitler's blitzkrieg legions was declared by Soviet sources to be in reverse in the bloody Smolensk sector today and the Napoleonic timetable of 83 days still stands as the military record for the route.

The army newspaper Red Star said the Germans were being driven back upon Smolensk at the rate of from seven to ten miles a day in one phase of a series of assaults by the central front troops of Marshal Semeon Timoshenko.

The Soviet information bureau said the 47th German tank corps, "reinforced with artillery and infantry," had suffered heavy losses in a pincer operation by Soviet units patterned upon the very encirclement tactics which the Nazis have emphasized since the invasion of Poland.

"Taking into pincers the enemy tank regiments which at several points wedged into our lines," a communique reported, "Soviet troops cut them off from the infantry and systematically annihilated them part at a time."

In one engagement alone, it said, Soviet tank crews destroyed 79 German tanks and 32 guns and killed 2,500 Germans.

'MACHINE WAR UP OUR ALLEY'

John Biggers Says Allies Will Outdo Axis By Middle Of 1943

LONDON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—John Biggers, United States lend-lease director in London, said today the combined efforts of the United States and Great Britain should outdo axis production by the middle of 1943. "When Hitler chose his mechanized war effort," Biggers said, "he certainly chose an effort which is right up our alley."

Biggers said he was aware of British criticism of United States production, but declared he was positive the "first major wave of United States production will be harvested in December of this year."

He exhibited production charts he said had not yet been made public in the United States.

The charts showed:

Small arms ammunition—Production now double what it was a year ago. By December present production will be doubled.

Machine guns—Present production high, but will be almost doubled by December.

Aluminum—No increase until after January, 1942.

Magnesium—More than doubled in the past year.

Machine tools—Production now four times its previous peak.

Merchant ships—There has been a

REQUESTS CHECK ON OIL LEASE VALIDITY

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 12.—(AP)—A request for a report on the validity of all oil leases on state lands has been transmitted to Attorney General Eugene Stanley by the state mineral board. The attorney general at his home in New Orleans, would not comment on the request.

At a meeting yesterday the board adopted a resolution asking for "legal opinions on the present validity and extent of all leases heretofore exercised on behalf of the state of Louisiana by the chief executives, the state mineral board, the board of minerals and other agencies."

The board also directs special attention to the extent of acreage described in each lease, conflicts of ownership, the known mineral formations under each, the possibility that prescription had run on some or that transfers or that defects in the leases might have invalidated transfers to third parties, the chance that the state might be entitled to repossess some mineral rights in cases where leases had not been developed or other lease provisions might have been ignored.

The World Today

(By Associated Press)

Germany swiftly follows President Roosevelt's shoot-on-sight order with announcement of great U-boat attack in north Atlantic; Hitler's high command reports 22 ships sunk, two others torpedoed, with U-boats still chasing survivors of 40-ship convoy.

Italian spokesman says axis warships "exposed to deliberate aggressive action of American warships" must attack in self-defense if they cannot escape; German officialdom silent on reaction to Roosevelt address; president orders United States navy to sink any axis warcraft entering American defense waters; Britons hail action as guaranteeing flow of United States aid to England.

Norwegian revolt against German-supported Quisling government reported rising; Stockholm hears gigantic conflict imminent; widespread new arrests reported; Germans officially assert peace restored in Oslo.

Adolf Hitler's blitzkrieg legions lose last chance to equal the 83-day record of Napoleon's horse and foot troops for a Warsaw-to-Moscow invasion as 83rd day of the Russian campaign finds Germans and Red army troops bloodily engaged in the Smolensk sector. Russians assert invaders are driven back at a rate of seven to 10 miles a day. Germans belittle "relief offensive" and forecast announcements of new Nazi victories.

British R. A. F. bombers raid north German coast, while German planes strike at east coast of England. Berlin sources say one British raider is shot down.

'IRON LUNG' IS NOW ON DISPLAY

Instrument Received And Placed In Hotel Frances Lobby

The "iron lung," funds for the purchase of which were secured by public subscription and which will be placed permanently in the E. A. Conway Memorial hospital here, arrived from Boston, Mass., by express Thursday. It was placed in the lobby of Hotel Frances on display Friday.

This "lung" is complete with the exception of a multiple respirator which is to be shipped in a few days' time. The other "lung," the portable one, will be shipped here from California according to word received by A. N. Robinson, chairman of the parish unit of the Louisiana Society for Crippled Children which sponsored the raising of the funds. The factory is slightly behind in filling orders but will be able to ship the "lung" in a few days' time.

The public is invited to inspect the "lung" at the hotel. It will remain there for several days. An experienced operator of the "lung" will arrive in Monroe in a few days' time to explain the workings of the delicate mechanism.

The "lung" weighs 700 pounds.

Mr. Robinson said Friday the experience of Muscle Shoals, Ala. In that city four "iron lungs" were purchased after a campaign waged to secure one "iron lung" after a death had occurred there from infantile paralysis, when physicians had said

TOLD TO SHOOT FIRST IF NAZI U-BOATS SEEN

President Bars Vast Reaches Of Seas To 'Rattlesnake' Raiders

CRITICS SHOW ALARM

Senator Van Nuys Looks Upon Executive's Talk As 'Terrorizing'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Secretary of State Hull indicated today that Germany's actions would determine what areas the United States will consider "defensive waters" in which American warships will shoot first in their patrols to defend shipping against axis attacks.

Asked to define the waters concerned, Hull told reporters it must be remembered that the United States confronted a world movement of force for the purpose of conquest of continents and seas.

The opposing forces, Hull said, will have something to say concerning areas of the sea which the United States may or may not find necessary to defend in order to protect this hemisphere.

Asked whether the United States would now send a formal note to the German government protesting Nazi attacks on American shipping, Hull simply referred questioners to President Roosevelt's speech.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—In blunt, uncompromising language President Roosevelt barred vast reaches of the seas today to "rattlesnake" raiders wearing the flag of the Rome-Berlin axis, and backed up the no trespass order with the guns of the United States navy.

Foes of the administration's policies immediately chorused that this constituted "an unauthorized declaration of war," "an engraved invitation to trouble."

But there was no disagreement as to what the president meant. His instructions to the fleet, effective at once, were specific—strike first without waiting whenever axis raiders are encountered hereafter in the "defensive waters" of the United States.

That, in brief, was the burden of the address which the chief executive delivered by radio last night to the nation, to the axis powers and to the other countries of the world.

It represented the president's considered reply to the recent series of sea incidents—a previously undisclosed attempt to torpedo an American battleship, the clash between the U. S. S. Greer and a U-boat in the north Atlantic, and the sinking of three American-owned merchantmen.

"The sole responsibility rests on Germany," said Mr. Roosevelt of the future.

"There will be no shooting unless Germany continues to seek it. * * *

"But let this warning be clear. From now on, if German or Italian vessels of war enter the waters, the protection of which is necessary for American defense, they do so at their own peril."

While critics were aroused by the pronouncements—Senator Van Nuys, Democrat, Indiana, called them "alarming . . . terrorizing"—the address drew a round of bipartisan approval, highlighted by the endorsement of Wendell L. Willkie and the statement of Senator Thomas, Democrat, Utah, that "driving pirates off or out of the seas is not war."

To Britain the president's words were welcome and the London press hailed them in headlines which

COBINA'S ARMY SWAIN GOES ON WITH COURTING

Apparently Not Discouraged By Her Statement She Won't Wed

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Cobina Wright's army swain is here to go on with his courting. But she says she hasn't changed her mind about getting married.

And she gives the idea that she isn't apt to, at least as long as Tyrone Power makes love to her daily. Even if it's only for a movie.

Corporal Palmer Beaudette, you may recall, visited Cobina, Jr., in Reno last week. It cost him $1,500 to charter a 16-passenger airliner back to Seattle. But the plane kept him from being A. W. O. L.

A story popped up about a November wedding, but Cobina promptly denied it, remarking "I'm right at the crossroads of my career."

Her career is at its high point—a feminine lead opposite the heart-tingling Mr. Power. She is even happy to arise at 5 a.m. daily.

But that prevented her from seeing much of Corporal Beaudette, grandson of a wealthy retired Detroit automobile manufacturer, on his first day here. And she sees no prospect of any change. For she likes to get to bed by 9.

"I told him that," she explained, "and he reminded me that getting up at 5 a.m. wasn't unheard of in the army.

"'Sure,' I told him, 'but I not only have to get up at 5, I have to look as if I didn't.'"

But Corporal Beaudette can take heart. She says he's still definitely on her eligible list. And his presence here shows he's still hopeful.

Not only that, she disclosed he called her by telephone from San Francisco earlier in the week and talked for three hours.

At current rates, that $54 worth.

Plus a 20-cent federal tax.

Jitney Jungle Opens Big Store On South Grand St.

Latest In Self-Serve Equipment Installed In Newest Establishment

Jitney Jungle store No. 4, located in the 2400 block of South Grand street, threw open its doors Friday, with every detail reconstructed at large expense and made ready for the serving of the public in superior manner. The company operated a store at this address but when the depression came the retail store was abandoned and instead the place was altered to serve as offices and storerooms of the company. Now with improved business conditions, the store has been completely overhauled, renovated, enlarged, and is now formally open and the public is invited to make inspection on Friday and Saturday.

The store operators, E. M. Steen and H. M. Branch, the sole owners of the company, are justly proud of their new establishment, which crowns a series of years of successful merchandising here. They have placed J. B. Bradley as store manager. Mr. Bradley has had more than eight years' association with this company and has proved a highly successful and popular manager. He has as his aide in directing the market, A. E. Tingle, who is regarded as a superior meat cutter and executive in this line.

The store is greatly improved over the one formerly operated here. It has the latest in fluorescent lighting, floors and walls newly painted and decorated, and the floor plan is such as to make purchasing a pleasure.

As is the past policy and that pursued in all Jitney Jungle stores, only nationally known brands are handled in canned goods and all merchandise is always the best at these stores, Mr. Steen asserts.

Other features comprise self-service, which cuts down overhead and this saving is passed on to the buyers; low prices are another feature, for every item is marked down to the lowest possible figure and there are no week-end specials.

The complete food variety is under one roof, which is of aid to buyers.

Other features are enumerated as follows: Buggies are provided to hold baskets which relieves discomfort when shopping; top grade meats are the only ones sold; the dairy department is the best that can be maintained as is the department of fruits and of sea foods; aisles in the store are roomy and store fixtures and refrigeration as well as meat and other counters are of the latest and most expensive style. Last and of interest to the public, the stores of Jitney Jungle are home-owned and home-operated.

Besides this large and roomy store, there is a new warehouse of large size at the rear of the main building and Mr. Steen has his general offices located immediately back of the store building. These offices are large and beautifully equipped, being finished in natural wood walls, polished hardwood floors and with many trophies of the hunt—Mr. Steen's hobby—displayed throughout the room.

The Jitney Jungle stores in the Twin Cities, besides this newest addition, are located at Jackson street and Ouachita avenue; 306 Trenton street, West Monroe; 2800 DeSiard street, and Fourth and Stubbs avenue. Besides these stores there are two others of the chain, one in Rayville and one in Lake Charles. In all the stores in the Twin Cities, Jitney Jungle employs a total of 65 persons.

The public is extended a special invitation to visit the newest store on Friday and Saturday. The store will remain open until 9 p.m. on Friday to accommodate visitors.

RURAL PROGRAM FEATURED HERE

Rotary Club Hears Talks By Two Parish Farm, Home Agents

The Monroe Rotary club, meeting at Hotel Virginia roof Thursday noon, devoted the day's program to the rural-urban committee, of which Malcolm Biedenharn is chairman. He introduced D. L. Bornman, Jr., parish farm demonstration agent, and Mrs. Jewel McQuiller, parish home demonstration agent. After each had given short talks concerning their work, they presented Principal Willis, of Eureka school, and H. B. Fairchild, assistant parish farm agent, and Mrs. Doris Brashier, assistant home demonstration agent.

Jack Avant and Buddy Williams, of the Eureka school, gave interesting talks on the proper method of grafting pecans. These two young boys had been instructed by Mr. Willis and Mr. Fairchild.

Thelma and Joyce Calhoun, as a dairy foods demonstration team gave talks on the importance of milk as to its food value, and its importance in every day diet. To stress milk as a universal food, the two girls prepared the following dishes: tomato-milk cocktail, creamed cabbage and cottage cheese pie. They had been trained by Mrs. Brashier.

Mrs. McQuiller stated that the two boys and two girls are members of clubs and that there are more than 600 4-H club members in Ouachita parish. She said this training they are now getting will fit them for greater usefulness in their communities in the future.

It was announced that next week's meeting will be on Thursday night, when the club will hold a semi-annual barbecue. Members will be host to "Rotary Anns" and others.

The club voted to donate $25 to U. S. O. to be used at the soldiers' center on North Fourth street.

One new member was introduced by Joe Trammell, George W. Jordan, classification, insurance adjuster.

Visiting Rotarians were Jack Gaines, Amite; Max Moses, Little Rock, Ark.; and Charles P. Wilhelm, Kingwood, W. Va. Other visitors were C. E. Henderson, Corporal J. F. Wilson, Captain Coyes, Howard Richardson and B. E. Ratcliffe.

SAYS 'BLOWN' STAR REMNANT IS DISCOVERED

Reports Gas Cloud Left By Body Which Blew Up In 1864

By E. H. Tipton

PASADENA, Calif., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Dr. Walter Baade said today he had discovered the gas cloud remnant of a star which suddenly blew up in 1604 and which had been sought unsuccessfully for a century.

Only recently he and other astronomers at Mount Wilson observatory determined that a gaseous cloud called the crab nebula is the remains of a similar star explosion observed by the Chinese in 1054.

These and a third supernova reported by the Danish astronomer Tycho in 1572 are the only stars known to have blown up with such violence in our star system, although numbers have been observed in distant nebulae.

"The stars of 1054 and 1604 suddenly became about 250,000,000 times as bright as the sun," said Dr. Baade. "They hurled off a large part of their mass at a rate of 800 miles a second.

"The Chinese reported that, despite its distance, the supernova of 1054 appeared as bright as the planet Venus. Astronomer Johannes Kepler reported in 1604, when the planets Jupiter, Saturn and Mars were together near the horizon—as they were two years ago—he saw a star had flared up among them brighter than Jupiter.

"He gave its position, but for a hundred years astronomers had searched the sky unsuccessfully for its remains.

"It occurred to Dr. Rudolph L. Minkowski and me to try red filter on the camera. This showed the 1064 supernova gas cloud to be where it had been vainly sought many times before.

"This gas cloud is behind dust clouds in the milky way which absorb much of the blue light from objects behind them, making the objects appear red and faint.

"We still have to find the star itself. We know it must be a hot, blue star and we know it is there because the gas cloud could have no light of its own."

These star explosions are the most spectacular and catastrophic happenings of the sky. Astronomers have been able to learn little about them because the spectra is like nothing in their experience.

"But now we can take the remnants of the two exploding stars and work backward," said Dr. Baade. "We should find a clue to what causes the stars to blow up.

"Our observations indicate one such explosion may be expected in each star system on an average of once in 300 or 400 years. Since the last one happened in this galaxy in 1604, astronomers now living have reason to hope that they yet may see a star explode within good range of their telescopes."

FINDS GAS MASK

Ella Sledge, colored, 1015 Washington street, reported to the News-Star Friday that a gas mask, in perfect condition, was found near her home. She said that she will willingly surrender it to its rightful owner.

TEXT OF TALK BY ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The text of President Roosevelt's address follows:

My Fellow Americans:

The navy department of the United States has reported to me that on the morning of September fourth the United States destroyer Greer, proceeding in full daylight towards Iceland, had reached a point southeast of Greenland. She was carrying American mail to Iceland. She was flying the American flag. Her identity as an American ship was unmistakable.

She was then and there attacked by a submarine. Germany admits that it was a German submarine. The submarine deliberately fired a torpedo at the Greer, followed later by another torpedo attack. In spite of what Hitler's propaganda bureau has invented, and in spite of what any American obstructionist organization may prefer to believe, I tell you the blunt fact that the German submarine fired first upon this American destroyer without warning, and with deliberate design to sink her.

Our destroyer, at the time, was in waters which the government of the United States had declared to be waters of self-defense—surrounding outposts of American protection in the Atlantic.

In the north, outposts have been established by us in Iceland, Greenland, Labrador and Newfoundland. Through these waters there pass many ships of many flags. They bear food and other supplies to civilians; and they bear material of war, for which the people of the United States are spending billions of dollars, and which, by congressional action, they have declared to be essential for the defense of their own land.

The United States destroyer, when attacked, was proceeding on a legitimate mission.

If the destroyer was visible to the submarine when the torpedo was fired, then the attack was a deliberate attempt by the Nazis to sink a clearly identified American warship. On the other hand, if the submarine was beneath the surface and, with the aid of its listening devices, fired in the direction of the sound of the American destroyer without even taking the trouble to learn its identity—as the official German communique would indicate—then the attack was even more outrageous. For it indicates a policy of indiscriminate violence against any vessel sailing the seas—belligerent or non-belligerent.

This was piracy—legally and morally. It was not the first nor the last act of piracy which the Nazi government has committed against the American flag in this war. Attack has followed attack.

A few months ago an American flag merchant ship, the Robin Moor, was sunk by a Nazi submarine in the middle of the South Atlantic, under circumstances violating long-established international law and every principle of humanity. The passengers and the crew were forced into open boats hundreds of miles from land, in direct violation of international agreements signed by the government of Germany. No apology, no allegation of mistake, no offer of reparations has come from the Nazi government.

In July, 1941, an American battleship in North American waters was followed by a submarine which for a long time sought to maneuver itself into a position of attack. The periscope of the submarine was clearly seen. No British or American submarines were within hundreds of miles of this spot at the time, so the nationality of the submarine is clear.

Five days ago a United States navy ship on patrol picked up three survivors of an American-owned ship operating under the flag of our sister republic of Panama—the S. S. Sessa. On August seventeenth, she had been first torpedoed without warning, and then shelled, near Greenland, while carrying civilian supplies to Iceland. It is feared that the other members of her crew have been drowned. In view of the established presence of German submarines in this vicinity, there can be no reasonable doubt as to the identity of the attacker.

Five days ago another United States merchant ship, the Steel Seafarer was sunk by a German aircraft in the Red sea two hundred and twenty miles south of Suez. She was bound for an Egyptian port.

Four of the vessels sunk or attacked flew the American flag and were clearly identifiable. Two of these ships were warships of the American navy. In the fifth clase, the vessel sunk clearly carried the flag of Panama. In the fifth case, the vessel sunk are keeping our feet on the ground. Our type of Democratic civilization has outgrown the thought of feeling compelled to fight some other nation by reason of any single piratical attack on one of our ships. We are not becoming hysterical or losing our sense of proportion. Therefore, what I am thinking and saying does not relate to any isolated episode.

Instead, we Americans are taking a long-range point of view in regard to certain fundamentals and to a series of events on land and on sea which must be considered as a whole—as a part of a world pattern.

It would be unworthy of a great nation to exaggerate an isolated incident, or to become inflamed by some one act of violence. But it would be inexcusable folly to minimize such incidents in the face of evidence which makes it clear that the incident is not isolated, but part of a general plan.

The important truth is that these acts of international lawlessness are a manifestation of a design which has been made clear to the American people for a long time. It is the Nazi design to abolish the freedom of the seas, and to acquire absolute control and domination of the seas for themselves.

For with control of the seas in their own hands the way can become clear for their next step—domination of the United States and the Western Hemisphere by force. Under Nazi control of the seas, no merchant ship of the United States or of any other American republic would be free to carry on any peaceful commerce, except by the condescending grace of this foreign and tyrannical power. The Atlantic ocean which has been, and which should always be, a free and friendly highway for us would then become a deadly menace to the commerce of the United States, to the coasts of the United States, and to the inland cities of the United States.

The Hitler government, in defiance of the laws of the sea and of the recognized rights of all other nations, has presumed to declare on paper, that great areas of the seas—even including a vast expanse lying in the Western Hemisphere—are to be closed, and that no ships may enter them for any purpose, except at peril of being sunk. Actually they are sinking ships at will and without warning in widely separated areas both within and far outside of these far-flung pretended zones.

This Nazi attempt to seize control of the oceans is but a counter-part of the Nazi plots now being carried on throughout the Western Hemisphere—all designed toward the same end. For Hitler's advance guards—not only his avowed agents but also his dupes among us—have sought to make ready for him footholds and bridgeheads in the new world, to be used as soon as he has gained control of the oceans.

His intrigues, his plots, his machinations, his sabotage in this new world are all known to the government of the United States. Conspiracy has followed conspiracy.

Last year a plot to seize the government of Uruguay was smashed by the prompt action of that country, which was supported in full by her American neighbors. A like plot was then hatching in Argentina, and that government has carefully and wisely blocked it at every point. More recently, an endeavor was made to subvert the government of Bolivia. Within the past few weeks the discovery was made of secret air landing fields in Colombia, within easy range of the Panama canal. I could multiply instances.

To be ultimately successful in world mastery, Hitler knows that he must get control of the seas. He must first destroy the bridge of ships which we are building across the Atlantic, over which we shall continue to roll the implements of war to help destroy him and all his works in the end. He must wipe out our patrol on sea and in the air. He must silence the British navy.

It must be explained again and again to people who like to think of the United States navy as an invincible protection, that this can be true only if the British navy survives. That is simple arithmetic.

For if the world outside the Americas falls under Axis domination, the shipbuilding facilities which the Axis powers would then possess in all of Europe, in the British Isles, and in the Far East would be much greater than all the shipbuilding facilities and potentialities of all the Americas—not only greater, but two or three times greater. Even if the United States threw all its resources into such a situation, seeking to double and even redouble the size of our navy, the Axis powers, in control of the rest of the world, would have the manpower and the physical resources to outbuild us several times over.

It is time for all Americans of all the Americas to stop being deluded by the romantic notion that the Americas can go on living happily and peacefully in a Nazi-dominated world.

Generation after generation, America has battled for the general policy of the freedom of the seas. That policy is a very simple one—but a basic, fundamental one. It means that no nation has the right to make the broad oceans of the world at great distances from the actual theater of land war, unsafe for the commerce of others.

That has been our policy, proved

A House Is Torn Down, Without Loss

In Detroit a great house is about to come down under the wrecker's crowbar, a vast pile of brick and stone that cost $3,000,000 and had 110 rooms.

That isn't important, and it isn't very interesting either, except for one thing:

Houses like that in every town are also coming down. Nobody wants them, even the very rich who can afford them. There is scarcely an American city that does not have one or more of these dinosaur relics of the age of the American colossi, which is either being dismantled or stands lonely and neglected simply because nobody wants it any more, even the few who could afford it if they did. They date. They recall an era that tried to be magnificent and didn't quite make it.

The Detroit house was that of John F. Dodge. It was still uncompleted when he died in 1920, and the family never occupied it. Stonework which Dodge imported 110 stonecutters from Scotland to finish remained unadmired. The lavish grounds began to grow up to underbrush. Once a florist rented the greenhouses; once a whole girls' summer camp operated in the screened porch. Brush and grass grew higher; children peered daringly into the gaunt windows, then ran away. It was a friendless, cold, haggard ghost of a house.

The Dodge estate couldn't sell it. The property will be easier to sell with the house removed. There are still men in Detroit who could pay the price, but the fashion has changed. These American castles, which would make Marlborough's Blenheim look like a week-end lodge, have seen their day pass.

Who shall mourn for them? Few indeed.

It is still possible for Americans of outstanding ability or luck to have homes on a grand scale. But the houses built on a scale of sheer ostentatious grandeur, far beyond any sanely imaginable need of their occupants—they are passing. They are passing, not because an indignant people tore them down as happened in pre-revolutionary France, or in Russia, but because native American good sense, made dizzy for a while by the merry-go-round of the twenties, has come back to balance.

Manhattan
By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Dancers of the concert stage do not take ballroom dancers very seriously, although they admire the salaries the better ballroom dancers earn. As one well known interpretative dancer said to me the other day: "What are ballroom dancers anyway? The girl wears a beautiful gown, and the man lifts her. They haven't contributed a thing since the Castles began the fad 25 years ago."

I would not go so far as to say that, but the trend in dancing in the more exclusive night clubs, particularly the Rainbow Room, during the last 20 months has been toward a more classical, interpretative vein.

The first of these I noticed—at this same rendezvous—was Jack Cole and his East Indian classic done to a jazz tempo. Cole had studied under Ted Shawn and Ruth St. Dennis, and when he brought his Oriental style of presentation to Mr. Rockefeller's roof, he was well received.

Since then, though not necessarily in this order, I have seen Fernandez and the beautiful Monna Montes of the Met; Chandra Kaly and his dancers, similar in a sense to the Cole dancers; and Agnes de Mille and Hugh Laing, noted for their comedy and choreographic inventiveness.

This trend seems a rational and a logical move. It is too bad that Miss Montes, who refuses to leave the Met, must therefore sacrifice a great deal of pleasure and also a lot of money in being unable to follow a career that can take her into such places as the Rainbow Room at a cute salary. She likes night clubs, but she loves the Met more. I remember this young woman when she first started out; I believe that I even saw her first dancing appearance in New York. It was in the Village at Ben Collada's El Chico. Her rare beauty and grace won her a prompt acclaim, and the next season she was at the Metropolitan.

Now her former partner, Fernandez, has a new partner, Juanita Deering, whom I have not seen but who is said to be very good.

I think it is a good thing that a more interpretative and a more classical form of dance is coming into the clubs because—well, why should someone like Monna Montes be seen only on Sunday evening at the Met? Why shouldn't she be seen every night, by changing audiences, and why shouldn't she reap the proper remuneration? It is of course her own affair but I hope she understands what she is doing and I hope too that the Met is properly appreciative of her talents.

Among dancers of this "new order" New Yorkers will see this fall and winter are Foster Fitz Simons and Miram Winslow, who recently returned from a slam-bang South American tour and who are famous for their comedy gifts; Ruth Page and Bently Stone, well known to the classical stage, and Charles Weidman and Doris Humphreys who give entire productions and revues at their own theater-school in New York. . . . Weidman is noted also as a solo artist and a gifted comic.

It is easy to believe that there were burlesque shows as long ago as 300 B. C., as a historian claims. Most of the jokes are that old.

Marshal Petain has given almost everything to the Germans except the tomb of Napoleon.

Once more his fellow-guzzlers beamed their gratitude and bent their elbows. With that the actor slapped a bill—a dollar bill—on the bar. "When I drink," he roared defiantly, "verybody drinks—and when I pay everybody pays!"

Our Children
By ANGELO PATRI

DUTY MEANS VICTORY OVER ERROR

Duty is an old-fashioned word, but I hope it holds its place and is adopted by the coming generation. Human beings alone of all Creation's children, have to choose their good. Often they prefer some other way and, walking therein, lose their chance of happiness.

Duty, stern daughter of the voice of God, if once adopted as one's own, makes the choice certain and the temptation void. Duty relieves the troubled soul of struggle. Her voice is the law and there is no other voice that can be heard against it. Duty means victory over life's errors; triumph over its sorrows.

But Duty must be won by service in her cause, and her cause is Good. To make her one's certain Strength and Defender one must serve a long apprenticeship, beginning in youth and ending, only at the final call to rest. We, who have lived long enough to have heard and followed her voice, understand the peace and joy obedience brings. We should teach the children to listen, to hear and to follow her that they, in their time, may know the spiritual rewards of her service.

Children do not do right for right's sake. Few grown people are able to do that; and it is only when strengthened by Duty that we rise to the occasion. A sense of Duty, a knowledge of Duty gained by personal experiment, comes only after instruction, practice and interpretation. A child will not choose Good for Good's sake until he has some idea of the meaning and the beauty of Goodness, again a matter of experience fostered by teaching.

Give a little child a chance to do something that is good and promptly reward him, materially, for it. That is the first, though the lowest stage of learning—to hear the voice Duty. As the child grows by experience and practice the material rewards are lessened and the emphasis swings over to the spiritual values.

Years go into the process, but when it is accomplished, when a sense of Duty is rooted in character, the young man or woman is freed of a heavy burden.

If one has to argue with oneself over every decision rendered between Good and Evil the struggle becomes too much. It is here that Duty serves one best. Swayed by her voice for a lifetime there is no struggle. She speaks, points the way, and there the matter rests.

Duty well performed is a man's best insurance for a peaceful life and a happy end. But Duty must be made plain to children, and early, step by step.

Little Peter at the Dike kept his finger in the break until help came and so saved the people from flood. I fancy he knew little about Duty as the stern voice of God, but he had been taught to do what was right to do as well as he was able. When he grew up I am certain that Duty governed his behavior and that he served his time in good deeds.

Service under Duty is the surest road to freedom. If we can teach that to our boys and girls we need not bother about a host of other things. Duty once enthroned, the child will go safely and surely all the way.

IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON—The ill wind which made national defense necessary has blown more good into the lightless lives of some of the nation's blind than into any other quarter.

The movement which made this possible started years ago, when national defense was hardly a drop in the bucket. Then it was only an idea in the mind of man who is himself blind—Robert B. Irwin, executive director of the American Foundation of the Blind.

Irwin asked himself why, with Uncle Sam spending millions annually for supplies, some of this shouldn't go for purchase of products made by blind persons. Five years of hurling this question at congress by Irwin and M. C. Migel, president of the foundation, finally resulted in passage of the Wagner-O'Day act, providing for the government purchase of blind-made products.

Until two years ago not a cent of government money had gone for things made by those unfortunates doomed to spend their days in darkness. But with the way open, Clifton E. Mack, director of procurement, launched on a program of buying.

In the first three months, orders distributed through the National Industries for the Blind to 22 workshops amounted to only $8,000. The workshops had to re-gear their production to government needs. Once that was done, it began to appear that blind workers would benefit by government orders amounting to about $800,000 a year. Then came national defense and no story is more amazing than what happened in the workshops of the blind.

Now 53 "factories" manned by thousands of blind workers in 28 states are turning out products for Uncle Sam to the tune of about $3,000,000 a year. On Mack's desk lies an order from the army for 2,000,000 pillow slips. When Uncle Sam pays the bill it will put about $650,000 in the tills of the blind workshops.

The workshops' lists of products are expanding daily and now include oil-treated mops, dry mops, brooms and mattresses.

Precaution after precaution has had to be taken under the law to prevent persons from exploiting blind labor. One provision now is that the blind in any shop must do 75 per cent of the total work on all products and another requires all shops to keep "eye record cards" to be certain that all workers come under the social security board definition of blindness.

Mack has become one of the most enthusiastic supporters of the program, not only because of the primary results, but the secondary as well.

"Providing the mere mechanism of 'gainful occupation' is not sufficient," he says. "It is upon the bare framework of a sightless existence that we have given to the blind a full-fledged consciousness of living—a vital sense of participation, of giving, cooperating and contributing their full share to our preparedness program."

As for the quality of the work, Mack refers to a visit he made to one of the workshops in Charlottesville, Va. There, he says, 40 blind men were working tirelessly on mattresses for the army and navy.

"These men," says Mack, "had been trained so expertly that not one mattress had to be rejected out of that order."

That is something of a record, for Uncle Sam's specifications are strict and the eyes of the army and navy inspectors sharp for the most minute flaws.

ENGINEER TO SURVEY DEFENSE PLANT SITE

J. C. Tourek, field engineer of the M. W. Kellogg company, Jersey City, N. J., arrived here yesterday afternoon to begin preliminary surveys of the proposed land on which the $9,250,000 anhydrous ammonia plant at Sterlington will be built, Major Herbert M. Stoll, constructing quartermaster, announced last night.

The field engineer will test the character of the soil to determine what type of foundation will be used by taking samples of the soil. Mr. Tourek will also establish the boundary of the property located adjacent to the Thermatomic Carbon plant.

A local office will be established by Mr. Tourek who expects to complete his survey in approximately two weeks, Major Stoll said, adding that other representatives of the M. W. Kellogg company are expected to arrive here soon.

RUSSIAN ASTRONOMER LOCATES NEW COMET

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Harvard scientists report that a Russian astronomer, standing by his telescope less than 150 miles from the invading German army, has discovered a new comet.

Dr. Fletcher Watson of Harvard said last night that he had learned by cablegram that Astronomer G. Neujmin sighted the comet August 29 at the Russian observatory in Simeis, East Crimea, east of Odessa.

"With the international situation as it is, we were amazed that anyone still remains at Simeis," Watson said.

Paving work on 18 additional blocks on four streets in the city of Monroe will be initiated within the next few weeks, stated Commissioner Will Atkinson. The paving of one of the streets has been authorized by the city council, while the other three will be authorized at the next meeting of the city council. The latest petition submitted to the council was from Forsythe avenue property owners, asking that the street be paved for four blocks, from Riverfront to Fourth street, with a standard type of hard-surfacing. The street will be on the boulevard type. Two other petitions were submitted to the city council. Property owners on Gordon avenue request that the street be paved for 10 blocks, and Forrest avenue property owners desire paving from Lee avenue to Lover's lane, a distance of two blocks. Both petitions will be approved by the council at the next meeting, Mr. Atkinson said. Hard-surfacing of Harrison street, from Jackson street to Hall street, was authorized at the last meeting of the city council. Work on this will start shortly, it is said.

Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement, the holiest day in the Jewish calendar, will be observed September 18. After sundown Friday evening, the Jewish people will hold solemn services known as Kol Nidre. Memorial services, in commemoration of the dead, will feature the day's devotions.

MADE UP TO KILL
by Kelley Roos

Chapter 36

The Cape

"BOWERS watched her," Jeff went on. "They were alone on that side of the stage. He came up behind her quietly, held one hand over her mouth and stabbed her with the other. He wiped the knife clean of fingerprints on Eve's jacket and dropped it beside her body.

"It was then he had his inspiration—in the form of Carol's cape. He saw it on the banister where she had dropped it. Everybody was looking for Carol's murderer. He would keep it like that.

"He threw the cape over Eve, making it look as if she had been mistaken for Carol. It worked. And he was aided by the fact that nobody had an alibi backstage. Anyone could have done it. Then he tried to improve on his plan with the shot through the window. He couldn't stay quiet; he had to try and make himself safer."

"But, Jeff," I asked, "It sounds right but . . . but how were you going to prove it? It seems to me that it would all rest on whether Clint admitted or denied it."

"It did, my dear, it did." Jeff smiled sheepishly. "That was the trouble. There wasn't one single scrap of evidence or proof connected with the whole shebang. So I had to think up a way to force Clint's hand by showing him that I knew he had killed Eve North. Of course, my way wasn't nearly so effective, nor so dramatic, as yours."

"As mine? What do you mean?"

"You went to the theater, got yourself alone on a dark stage with him, dropped a nice juicy hint that you knew he was the murderer, then let him chase you around the theatre and damn near kill you, so that I could bring friend Peterson and his boys in to make an easy, clean-cut arrest."

"Is that what I did? Boy! Am I the Smarty-Pants! But what were you going to do, Jeff? Let Clint chase you?"

Stage Party

"THAT idea never occurred to me. No, I had arranged a little social gathering. I asked Alice McDonald and Phoebe and Philip Ashley to come to the theater. Bowers had said he would be there.

"I was going to plunk him in the audience with Peterson beside him and a couple of New York's finest stationed at the doors and present a little playlet for him. I meant to show him how Eve had unconsciously switched the poison from her place to Carol's by doing that scene again. Philip Ashley was to play his part and Alice was to play Eve's.

"Then Alice was to impersonate Eve again, the next night, as she stood in the wings just before she was stabbed, Ashley was going to show how someone, sitting on that pile of furniture in back of the set where Bowers had been sitting by his own admission, could easily have slipped around to where Eve was, stabbed her, and gone back to his place again without having been seen."

"But how could Clint have known that he wouldn't be seen?"

"He made sure of that. If the coast hadn't been clear he would have waited until it had been. He knew that sometime during that evening, shielded by the almost total darkness of backstage, his chance would come. And it did come. And he got an unexpected break to boot. Carol's wrap.

"That made him too cocky, though. He began cooperating with the police while they looked for Carol's murderer. He could afford to. They would never have found any connection between him and Carol because there wasn't any. It was because he was so sure of himself that I hoped my little charade with Ashley and Alice, and with Phoebe Thompson being my assistant, might shock him into giving himself away.

"Well, maybe it wouldn't have worked. But I've seen Bill Powell make it work in the movies, hundreds of times. Of course, as I said, your way was much surer."

The Ring

"MY way!" I suddenly had to laugh. "You know, I was scared to death when I found myself on that dark stage alone with Alice and I was so relieved when Bowers appeared and she sneaked out. Good old Alice! She would sneak out and leave me alone with a murderer."

"She didn't know. But the fact is she did a lot worse than that. She almost cooked your goose for good. If she hadn't buttonholed me and Peterson in the alley outside for five minutes, you would only have had to run around the theatre a couple of times. And if she hadn't happened to mention that you were inside with Bowers for another minute, well, I guess there wouldn't have been any use mentioning it."

The shudder that zigzagged down my spine called for another healthy sip of my drink and I lost no time taking it.

"You see," Jeff went on, "you had frightened Alice."

"I frightened Alice! She scared the daylights out of me!"

"She thought from the way you talked that I had picked her as our murderer. Sure, the girl's wacky, but that's what she thought. She was scared stiff, and the first thing she wanted to do was explain to me why she left the theater opening night. In her mind that was our big point against her, since I had made so much of it."

"And did she explain it?"

"Sure, she left the theater to get her ring."

"A ring! Oh Jeff!"

"You're laughing, huh? And that's exactly why she wouldn't tell us, especially you. She knew you'd laugh."

"But she gave up her big chance to play a part for a ring! It sounds awfully weird."

The War Today

By DeWitt MacKenzie
(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer)

President Roosevelt's order to the fleet to shoot on sight whenever axis raiders invade America's "defensive waters" brings one to the obvious conclusion that a shooting war might develop.

The chief executive's statement on this policy, however, makes it clear that we do not seek war and that "there will be no shooting unless Germany continues to seek it."

That puts the future squarely up to Herr Hitler. Berlin thus far has given no indication of what is in his mind.

What we do know is that up to this juncture the Nazi leader has studiously avoided war with the United States. If he now forces the issue it will represent a complete change in policy and one which it would seem hard to justify from the standpoint of German strategical needs, since the last thing he can desire is to have the American navy cut loose against him.

Still, it's possible that if the fuehrer believes he can liquidate the Russian danger in the near future, he may contemplate another quick all-out assault on Britain. In that case he might attempt to cut England off from American aid by attacks on our shipping.

There is small doubt that there will be further "incidents" which will involve shooting. However, while it is certain that each one of these is fraught with the danger of war, it strikes me that if they were only occasional they might continue long before precipitating general hostilities.

Mr. Roosevelt's statement is a very sweeping declaration of freedom of the seas. The definition of our field of operations as "in the waters which we deem necessary for our defense" would seem to be very flexible. That field may be altered according to the circumstances of the moment.

It is clear in any event that we intend to send our merchant ships wherever we deem necessary in order to bear aid to those who are waging war against the axis. Those waters certainly include the Atlantic pathway to Iceland and the route through the Red sea to Egypt, both of which have been declared danger zones by the axis powers.

This doesn't mean, of course, that the United States proposes to invade belligerent waters where hostilities are in progress—the English channel, for example. Thus Herr Hitler has a very considerable leeway to avoid trouble if he wants to.

The president's omission of any reference to Japan was taken by some observers to have special significance, as indicating a desire not to say anything which might influence the very delicate conversations now proceeding between Washington and Tokyo in an effort to reach an accord over the far eastern situation.

Equally notable was the statement in Tokyo by Koh Ishii, Japanese cabinet information bureau spokesman, who said Japan adhered to the general principles of freedom of the seas. That is particularly striking in view of the fact that Nippon has been up in arms over our shipment of war supplies to the Russian port of Vladivostok.

All this would seem to speak well for the progress of the negotiations, or at least indicates a real desire to reach an understanding.

COTTON ASSOCIATION DISCONTINUES WORK

After an uninterrupted service to farmers in Louisiana since 1923, the Louisiana Cotton Cooperative association will not operate this season, N. C. Williamson, Lake Providence, president of the association announced yesterday.

Mr. Williamson gave as his reason for discontinuing the service the entrance of government agencies into the cotton marketing service.

"With the government loan and free classing service to cotton growers, they have more protection in selling cotton than ever before," Mr. Williamson said, "and because of the facilities and the narrow margin of profit in marketing cotton, the cotton cooperatives are finding more difficult to make overhead and accumulated reserves for their own financing.

"In view of these facts, the board of directors at its last meeting decided to cease operations this season. We will hold our board of directors and charter so that at any time it is decided to begin business again, we can do so without delay."

TWO ARE ARRESTED HERE BY SHERIFF'S DEPUTIES

Deputies from Sheriff Milton Coverdale's office yesterday arrested at the request of Rapides parish authorities at Alexandria A. F. Winkles, 29, Ransom addition, West Monroe, on a charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses in the amount of $34. Winkles will be turned over to authorities from Alexandria today.

Charged with reckless driving on the highway, Joe Wade, negro, 711 Washington street, was arrested by Sheriff's deputies yesterday and placed in parish jail, Sheriff Coverdale said. Bond for Wade was fixed at $100.

TABER WARNS FOOD SHORTAGE IMPENDS

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 12.—(AP)—L. J. Taber of Columbus, master of the National Grange, warned today that a food shortage impends in the United States unless farm machinery manufacturers are granted steel priorities.

"There is certain to be a general farm labor shortage next year and this must be offset by increased use of machinery," Taber told the Ohio defense council.

"We must see that farm machinery manufacturers get sufficient steel to supply the increased demand if we hope to avert a food shortage," he said.

Taber also suggested that AAA restrictions must be removed or modified to insure sufficient food production for defense needs.

Missouri automobile traffic increased 16 per cent in the first half of 1941.

550 ENROLL FOR JUNIOR COLLEGE

Number Equal To That Of Year Ago, States Dean Colvert

Total registrations at Northeast Junior college up to Friday noon stood at 550. This number is approximately the same as were registered at the corresponding date a year ago.

Dean C. C. Colvert said that there are still three weeks more in which registrations will be permitted, with payment of a penalty, and that aviation, music and special students are to register in many cases. In all he expects 75 to 100 more students will be added at the end of the next three weeks time.

MANY MESSAGES PRAISE ADDRESS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The White House announced today that of 1,600 messages received overnight and this morning on President Roosevelt's shoot-on-sight radio address "only 150" were critical and not in accord with it.

At the same time Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said a Columbia Broadcasting system survey showed the address was heard by the second largest audience of American radio listeners.

The survey, Early said, gave the speech a 67 per cent rating which meant that 67 per cent of a potential audience of 60,000,000 people heard it. A 70 per cent rating was accorded the president's May 27 speech in which he declared an unlimited national emergency.

The CBS survey was exclusive of foreign audiences which heard the address by short wave in many languages and the theater and motion picture audiences who listened during suspension of regular shows.

Registrations will be continued through next week at the Ouachita Parish High school, it was announced by Principal Jack Hayes, Friday. A total of 110 had been registered up to Friday morning.

The purpose of extending the registration over into another week is to care for many who were unable to register this week, Mr. Hayes said.

clarioned: "U. S. to Guard Our Ships," "F. D. R. Orders 'Sink Nazis in U. S. Seas.'" The British radio announced "Hitler's expulsion from the Atlantic is starting immediately." The official response, however, was left for a "person of equal standing"—presumably Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

Rome and Berlin displayed no hurry to comment, but actually German commentators had anticipated the speech by several hours, denouncing Mr. Roosevelt roundly as a "warmonger" who intended his address "to excite public opinion in the United States."

In Canada the president's words were considered stronger than any previous assertions, and the general opinion seemed to be that the United States had moved a step closer to actual participation in a shooting war.

There was an echo of a bygone shooting war when Mr. Roosevelt flatly accused Germany of waging "ruthless . . . unrestricted submarine warfare." It was the resumption of unrestricted submarine warfare early in 1917 that brought the severance of diplomatic relations with Germany which preceded the United States entry into the World war.

As for the "unrestricted submarine warfare of 1941," President Roosevelt said the United States was ready to deal with it in defensive waters "no matter what it takes, no matter what it costs."

Although the White House had promised that the speech would leave no questions unanswered, it contained only the vaguest indication of what parts of the sea were held to constitute "defensive waters." Moreover, it made no mention of any decision to seek repeal of the neutrality act, and it was completely silent on the subject of the third axis partner, Japan—a silence some thought was significant.

In speaking of "defensive waters," Mr. Roosevelt made only one point clear—that the seas immediately surrounding all American outposts were so considered. The absence of a more explicit definition set legislators studying previous presidential pronouncements in an effort to work out one for themselves.

The general conclusion was that the "keep out" zone would include all of the west Atlantic from Iceland down to the areas off the long South American coastline. However, Mr. Roosevelt has indicated on several occasions that, from the standpoint of defense, he considers the hemisphere's geographical boundary an elastic line. Such a conception, officials were quick to note, would not be calculated to hamper naval operations under last night's orders.

The uncertainty on the subject was further heightened by this passage from Mr. Roosevelt's address:

"No act of violence, no act of intimidation will keep us from maintaining intact two bulwarks of American defense: first our line of supply of material to the enemies of Hitler, and second, the freedom of our shipping on the high seas."

The reference to the supply line to the enemies of Hitler was believed to be the basis for the British interpretation that American naval units would provide transatlantic guard for their shipping. It also started administration opponents proclaiming: "The convoys are coming."

But Mr. Roosevelt had nothing more to say on this particular point, and no member of congress claimed authoritative knowledge on what he had in mind.

There was speculation, however, that the insistence of freedom for American shipping on the high seas might presage some form of protection, naval or otherwise, in the Red sea area where the freighter Steel Seafarer was bombed to the bottom last Sunday.

It was to the Atlantic, however, that Mr. Roosevelt addressed himself most of the time and he denounced axis raiders there as "pirates" and "rattlesnakes."

". . . When you see a rattlesnake poised to strike," he said, "you do not wait until he has struck before you crush him.

"These Nazi submarines and raiders are the rattlesnakes of the Atlantic. They are a menace to the free pathways of the high seas. They are a challenge of our own sovereignty. They hammer at our most precious rights when they attack ships of the American flag—symbols of our independence, our freedom, our very life."

Then, with measured emphasis, came these words:

"In the waters which we deem necessary for our defense, American naval vessels and American planes will no longer wait until axis submarines lurking under the water, or axis raiders on the surface of the sea, strike their deadly blow—first."

Not only American commerce "but ships of any flag" will be protected in those waters, he declared.

Mr. Roosevelt delivered his address from the diplomatic reception room of the White House. Behind his desk as he faced the cluster of microphones was a defense program poster with the exhortation: "Keep 'Em Flying."

In contrast with the sweltering heat that wilted the capital the evening of the president's last fireside chat on May 27, the weather had turned delightfully cool after a sultry week—almost too cool for the light seersucker suit Mr. Roosevelt wore. There was a black band of mourning on the president's sleeve for the death of his mother, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, last Sunday.

The immediate audience was small—Mrs. Roosevelt, wearing black; Harry L. Hopkins, the lease-lend supervisor who came in after the speech had started; Captain Elliott Roosevelt and his wife, a handful of White House aides and some radio technicians.

But outside the room there were millions who heard. All major radio networks broadcast the speech, and every available piece of short wave equipment was put into service to beam the original or translations to the four quarters of the earth. The rebroadcasts were in fourteen languages.

The president began speaking in a serious, but matter of fact tone. He recited the recent series of sea incidents. Four were well known by this time—the Robin Moor, the U. S. S. Greer, Steel Seafarer, the Sessa. Not so the fifth—the disclosure how a submarine stalked one of the navy's big battlewagons.

Mr. Roosevelt recounted it thus:

"In July, 1941—nearly two months ago—an American battleship in north Atlantic waters was followed by a submarine which for a long time sought to maneuver itself into a position of attack upon the battleship. The periscope of the submarine was plainly seen. No British or American submarines were within hundreds of miles of this spot at the time, so the nationality of the submarine is clear."

The president proceeded to indict the third Reich for waging "unrestricted submarine warfare" in a campaign to seize control of the seas. To further this campaign, he said, there were Nazi plots in the western hemisphere.

Uruguay, Argentina, Bolivia and Colombia all had been forced to take action against these conspiracies, Mr. Roosevelt asserted, and "I could multiply instance on instance."

He stressed he was not talking of isolated episodes.

"It would be unworthy of a great nation to exaggerate an isolated incident, or to become inflamed by some one act of violence. But it would be inexcusable folly to minimize such incidents in the face of evidence which makes it clear that the incident is not isolated, but a part of a general plan.

"The important truth is that these acts of international lawlessness are a manifestation of a design . . . the Nazi design to abolish the freedom of the seas, and to acquire absolute control and domination of these seas for themselves.

"For with control of the seas in their own hands, the way can become clear for their next step—domination of the United States and domination of the western hemisphere by force."

Thrice in the course of his address the president mentioned with irony those in the camp opposed to administration foreign policies.

The first occasion was when he told his audience that the attack on the destroyer Greer had been deliberate and unprovoked despite "what Hitler's propaganda bureau has invented, and in spite of what any American obstructionist organization may prefer to believe."

The second reference was during his remarks charging Nazi penetration attempts in the western hemisphere. "Hitler's advance guards—not only his avowed agents but also his dupes among us—have sought to make ready for him footholds and bridgeheads in the new world, to be used as soon as he has gained control of the oceans."

As a parting shot, Mr. Roosevelt asserted:

"No tender whisperings of appeasers that Hitler is not interested in the western hemisphere, no soporific lullabies that a wide ocean protects us from him—can long have any effect on the hard-headed, far-sighted and realistic American people."

On the Greer incident, Mr. Roosevelt posed a dilemma for the government of the third Reich.

After declaring that the identity of the World war four-stacker was "unmistakable"; that she had been attacked in the waters of the American defense zone, and that the attack had occurred in broad daylight, the president continued:

"If the destroyer was visible to the submarine when the torpedo was fired, then the attack was a deliberate attempt to sink a clearly identified American warship.

"On the other hand, if the submarine was beneath the surface and, with the aid of its listening devices, fired in the direction of the sound of the American destroyer without even taking the trouble to learn its identity—as the official German communique would indicate—then the attack was even more outrageous. For it indicates a policy of indiscriminate violence against any vessel sailing the seas—belligerent or non-belligerent.

"This was piracy—piracy, legally and morally. It was not the first nor the last act of piracy which the Nazi government has committed against the American flag in this war. Attack has followed attack."

The phrasing of this paragraph in Mr. Roosevelt's address gave many of his listeners the impression that he looked for continued axis attacks on the Stars and Stripes.

Despite the president's silence on possible repeal of the neutrality act, one highly-placed congressional leader said Mr. Roosevelt had planned his address "to lay a foundation" for a repeal request later.

This legislator—one of those who talked with Mr. Roosevelt at a conference yesterday—said administration leaders were convinced that the act no longer was serving any useful purpose.

Under the act, American merchant ships can not enter designated combat zones; belligerents must take title to American goods before they transport them from the United States, and American citizens can not travel in belligerent ships except under regulations prescribed by the president.

It generally was agreed that any proposal to wipe out the act would draw vigorous opposition, but some leaders in both parties expressed the conviction that repeal would be voted if Mr. Roosevelt requested it.

COLOMBIA STARTS PROBE OF NAZIS

BOGOTA, Colombia, Sept. 12.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's assertion in his speech last night that secret landing fields had been discovered in Colombia within range of the Panama canal brought a Colombian government announcement today that investigation of properities owned by German nationals was under way.

The statement said that Colombia "is in condition to remove any possible dangers immediately."

Reports recently were given the government, the announcement disclosed, of the probable existence of "unauthorized landing fields on the property of German citizens situated in a zone between Barranquilla and Cartagena," Colombia's two leading port cities on the Atlantic. Both are within easy airplane distance of the Panama canal.

NEGRO SOLDIER ROBS DRIVER, TAKES TAXI

State and military police were searching Friday for an unidentified negro soldier who reportedly robbed a taxi driver of his machine and $16 in cash near Bosco Thursday night. The cab, belonging to the West Monroe Taxi company, was found by state police this morning, abandoned on the Milhaven road near Monroe.

The driver of the cab, Adrin Smith of West Monroe, reported that he picked up a negro, who said he was a soldier in an outfit camped near Bosco, in West Monroe Thursday night and took him to a point near Bosco. When he stopped the cab, he said, the passenger held a gun on him, robbed him of $16, and drove off in the cab toward Monroe.

LIGHTS OUT

BUENOS AIRES—(AP)—Pity the poor smoker. He used to get his matches free with the purchase of cigarets, cigars and tobacco. Retailers stopped the practice, however, blaming the rising cost of matches. Now the smoker has to pay five centavos (one and a quarter cents) for his "light."

HITLER ASSERTS SACRIFICE GREAT

BERLIN, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler told the German public today the "success of German soldiers and their sacrifice in blood, sweat, worries and privations is unprecedented in world history."

The written statement was made in an appeal for contributions to winter relief funds.

For the ninth time, Hitler said, "I appeal to the German people for voluntary contributions to winter relief."

"Our armed forces," he told the nation, "in these historic days are fighting in a gigantic struggle for existence or non-existence of the German nation, yet, more than that, for the maintenance of that Europe which for thousands of years was the benefactor of culture and civilization of humanity and shall be so again in the future.

"As once in the interior, so today in the hostile outside world, Jewish capitalism and Bolshevism have united in an attempt to destroy the National Socialist German Reich as a strong bulwark of this new Europe and, above all, to wipe out our people."

REHEARING DENIED TO LEON C. WEISS

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Leon C. Weiss, New Orleans architect facing a five-year sentence for conviction of mail fraud in connection with construction work at Louisiana Polytechnic Institute at Ruston, was denied a rehearing yesterday by the Fifth United States circuit court of appeals here.

The federal district court at Monroe, where Weiss was convicted, "committed no reversible error," the opinion written by Circuit Judge Edwin R. Holmes said.

Weiss, indicted with Monte Hart on charges of mail fraud arising from $29,056.04 in "extras" allegedly added to "Leche hall" at the college, pleaded he was the "dupe" of Hart, who committed suicide before going to trial.

The opinion replied:

"As Lord Coleridge, C. J., said, a man may be many times the dupe of another, but it is less likely he should be so oftener than once."

ROOSEVELT SPEECH BOOST TO MARKET

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 12.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's broadcast, apparently bullishly interpreted in the cotton market here today, largely influenced an advance of more than $2 a bale to new season highs.

At the highest levels satisfied longs took profit and a mild reaction ensued. An additional stimulant was the large spot sales of yesterday and claims that spot offerings in the interior were much smaller than demand.

Fears the gulf storm would further damage the crop in southern sections of the belt where much cotton is open helped values.

Removal of restrictions on future trading in fats and oils by Price Administrator Henderson seemed to have a favorable effect.

Mid-day prices were 27 to 41 points net higher. October then sold at 18.17 cents a pound, December 18.30, January 18.48, March 18.50, May at 18.62 and July 18.65.

Lieutenant Reames is a graduate of St. Francis sanitarium, Monroe.

AMBASSADOR LEAHY CALLS ON PETAIN

VICHY, Unoccupied France, Sept. 12.—(AP)—United States Ambassador William Leahy called on Marshal Petain today for a conference concerning his week-end meeting with two other American envoys, Alexander W. Weddell and Myron C. Taylor, in Barcelona.

Taylor, fresh from conferences in Washington, had stopped off at Barcelona on his way back to Rome as President Roosevelt's personal representative at the Vatican. Weddell is ambassador to Spain.

Leahy took with him the full English text of President Roosevelt's speech last night announcing that German and Italian war vessels entering American defense waters would be sunk on sight.

The ambassador also outlined the progress of the United States defense program.

Garden Club Meets With Mrs. McHenry

Guest Speaker Talks On Subjects Of Vital Importance At Garden Club Meeting

City-wide beautification is the aim and desire of a group of civic spirited women, members of the Monroe Garden club, who met recently at the home of Mrs. Carl McHenry where a guest speaker, Mr. R. C. Morrison of the federal security board offered many helpful suggestions for the year's program. A community center for Monroe is another project engaging the interest of the Monroe Garden club. Mr. Morrison discussed this subject at this time and also gave club members valuable suggestions on the Monroe Garden club. Another project engaging the interest of these club members is adequate sewerage for Monroe and proper zoning laws. These subjects, led by Mr. Morrison, were discussed and plans formulated for immediate action.

The new club year will be one of great activity for members of the Monroe Garden club who have mapped out a comprehensive program. Guest speakers will appear on several programs, of exceptional interest being the lecture to be delivered October 22 by J. N. Giridlian of Los Angeles, Calif. He will talk on the subject of "Rare Bulbs." His talk will be accompanied by colored slides.

Another guest speaker whose appearance is anticipated with more than passing pleasure, is Miss Camilla Bradley, editor of Home Gardening. Still another speaker, Dr. C. O. Eddy, entomologist, has been booked for a lecture later in the year.

Mrs. Allan Sholars, Mrs. John Breard and Mrs. A. G. McHenry regaled club members with splendid reports on the state garden conference following Mr. Morrison's lecture.

The Woman's auxiliary to the Ouachita Parish Medical society met Tuesday at 12:30 o'clock at the Lotus club with the new president, Mrs. D. T. Milam, presiding.

Luncheon was served in a private dining room. Hostesses on this occasion were Mrs. Henry Guerriero, Mrs. H. V. Collins, Mrs. J. Q. Graves and Mrs. J. P. Brown.

Dr. H. S. Coon, president of the Ouachita Parish Medical society was a guest of the auxiliary. His talk on new trends in medicine was exceedingly interesting. Dr. Coon complimented the club on the well planned program which has been outlined for the 1941-1942 session. He considered a few projects in particular, most worthwhile. They are:

Hygeia magazine, Doctor's Day, Indigent Physician's fund, public health education, Anti-Tuberculosis campaign, cancer control, Red Cross classes, honoring graduating class of nurses at St. Francis.

Two new members, Mrs. Edwing Byrd and Mrs. L. B. Landry, were welcomed at this time.

Others present were: Mrs. M. A. McHenry, Mrs. A. G. McHenry, Mrs. J. B. Vaughan, Mrs. H. S. Coon, Mrs. Ralph Talbot, Mrs. G. T. Gallaspy, Mrs. J. E. Walsworth, Mrs. H. V. Collins, Mrs. H. T. Rogers, Winnsboro, Mrs. Irving Wolff, Mrs. Clifford Johnson, Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, Mrs. Paul Byron, daughter of Dr. R. W. O'Donnell, Mrs. R. W. O'Donnell, Mrs. E. L. Carroll, Columbia, Mrs. P. L. Perot, Mrs. W. L. Smith, Mrs. J. Q. Graves, Mrs. D. M. Moore, Mrs. C. P. Gray.

Mrs. Robert Morris, who before her recent marriage was Miss Jean Ainsworth of Lorman, Miss., was honored with a miscellaneous shower by Misses Berry Regan, Camille Dent, Francis Graham, Nettie Francis Dent, Elizabeth George Galtney at the home of Mrs. Carl Brown. The honor guest wore an early fall model of beige crepe with a corsage of pink asters. Mrs. Brown's home was adorned with beautiful pink asters on this occasion.

Mrs. Morris, whose husband is in training for the air service, upon arrival was presented with a book of rules for pilot's wives. During the conversational hour a miniature airplane overflowing with gifts, was suspended overhead.

The hostesses served their guests frosted punch, sandwiches and individual cakes.

Plans for building a cabin for troop 3 of the Boy Scouts were discussed by members of the Painters' Auxiliary number 4, when they met Wednesday afternoon at the Labor temple.

A feature of this meeting was the social hour during which refreshments were served to: Mrs. G. L. Edney, Mrs. Grady Adams, Mrs. Lee Thompson, Mrs. Walter Crow, Mrs. C. E. Smith, Mrs. Al Thomas, Miss Aline Edney, Miss Lucy Helen Keller, Mrs. O. D. Hollingsworth, Mrs. Lee Venters, Mrs. George Burkett, Mrs. Broadnax.

An interesting visitor in the city is Colonel Arthur Hamilton who is visiting his sister, Mrs. John G. Smith at her home, 900 Georgia street. Colonel Hamilton will be remembered as the pilot who did the "stunt" flying in the picture "Wings" shown in Monroe a few months ago. He has been in the United States army for 30 years. He is now engaged in war maneuvers and stopped in Monroe en route to Jonesboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ticheli, Jr., announce the arrival of their fifth child and first daughter, Sidney Louise. Mrs. Ticheli will be remembered as Miss Sidney Marie Mattinson.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—(AP)—If you are a driver who passes other cars on hills and curves your motorist friends are few.

The Missouri safety bureau recently gave motorists the opportunity of electing "the No. 1 menace of the road." More than 50 per cent of all the votes went to the hill and curve passer.

Second place winner was the "creeper," the fellow who pokes along in fast traffic. In third place was the driver who fails to give signals.

ASSERTS AXIS SHIPS FORCED TO SHOOT NOW

opinion for the need to run new risks."

The risk has been increased after each of the president's previous declarations, the source said, but the difference this time is mainly one of degree and "it is not believed there will be immediate grave consequences."

In Chungking, the provisional capital of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's Chinese national government, Mr. Roosevelt's broadcast was interpreted as the forerunner of a shooting war likely to start at any moment.

In London, Lord Halifax, the British ambassador to Washington, said every Briton had been "greatly heartened" by Mr. Roosevelt's no-trespass warning to the axis. He called it "the most practical example of the help in practical form that the United States is prepared to give us and those fighting with us."

Authoritative sources in the Netherlands East Indies said the broadcast brought an allied victory closer and they looked to the United States to oppose axis shipping raids on the Pacific as well as Atlantic.

The speech coincided with fears expressed by naval authorities for the Netherlands liner, Kota Nopan, overdue on a voyage to the United States and reported sunk by a German raider off the west coast of Latin America.

The Madrid newspaper ABC, first in Spain to comment on the speech, said, "the president abandons the last fictions of neutrality" and Germany "cannot permit" maintenance of the Iceland route. It predicted "new serious complications."

"It is not possible both to enjoy the advantages of a neutral country and carry out a policy which scarcely differs from the attitude of a belligerent," ABC said.

Brazilian newspapers gave the Roosevelt speech top position on page one. Imparcial said, "President Vargas already has proclaimed Brazil in a state of armed vigilance. Now, when the United States initiates active defense, all American peoples will coordinate themselves with this armed vigilance."

The Jornal said Roosevelt's speech was "the decision of America" and "other American nations are disposed to give their contribution."

Authoritative sources in London left official comment for Prime Minister Churchill himself. The prime minister was asleep when the president spoke at 9 p.m., eastern standard time, 8 a.m., British summer time.

The London Daily Express said the president's pledge to protect ships of any nationality engaged in commerce in American defense waters was "an immense step in the business of getting American arms to these shores."

The paper said the Germans undoubtedly would reply by charging Roosevelt "with all the crimes in the calendar * * *, but they will not deter him from his purpose which is now clearly revealed as full support by the American fleet of the British navy, an invincible protection of the sea route between the United States of America and Britain. * * * The president has spoken. We await Hitler's reply."

The Daily Sketch said the president "minced no words" in the "strongest and most important state pronouncement made by America in this war."

At Tokyo Koh Ishii, Japanese cabinet information bureau spokesman, said Japan adhered to the general principles of freedom of the seas, but would make no further comment.

John Curtin, Australian Labor party leader, said at Canberra that President Roosevelt's broadcast "must bring home to the United States her own obligations which, in a great respect, are more than those of any other part of the democratic world."

The free French radio station in French Equatorial Africa said Roosevelt had "thus thrown down the gauntlet and it is now up to Germany to decide whether it wants war with the United States or not."

In the Western Hemisphere, Canada's first reaction was that the United States moved closer through the speech to participation in the shooting war.

Canadian newspapers, which have warned their readers that the president alone cannot pledge the United States to war, drew attention to his statement that "we have sought no shooting war with Hitler. We do not seek it now."

On the other hand the Canadians regarded his assertion that "we shall continue to roll out the implements of war to help destroy him and all his works" as an unmistakable reiteration of the president's "crush Hitler" policy.

In Cuba, where many residents heard Spanish and English versions of the broadcast over local stations, there was no official comment, but some Cubans hailed the speech as a decisive and necessary step in the defense of democracy.

The newspaper El Mundo at Buenos Aires called the broadcast "the first step toward militancy" and said it "indicates drastic procedure" on the part of the United States to secure safe lanes for Atlantic shipping.

RUSSIANS SAY GERMAN DRIVE IS IN REVERSE

sia in the summer of 1812. Today is the 83rd day of Hitler's drive to the east, which started June 22.)

While Russians pictured fierce Soviet attacks along a 400-mile front from Gomel to Velikie Luki, approaches to the defense zones of both Leningrad and Kiev were said to be carpeted with German dead.

Baltic fleet naval pilots were said to have joined Red army fliers in the defense of Leningrad, which has been under 123 air-raid alarms. Russians said, however, that German raiders reached the city proper for the first time Tuesday.

In the far north, where snow now covers the Khibin mountains, Soviet troops were reported to have repulsed a Finnish-German attempt to cut the Murmansk-Leningrad railway.

Guerillas were said to be active behind the German lines in support of Soviet frontal operations, and the early-morning communique said a Soviet trick involved two Nazi infantry units in deadly fighting between themselves.

The Soviet band, the communique said, involved one unit—a detachment of three platoons—in a hot skirmish near the town of Dunayevo and then ceased fire and disappeared when a Nazi infantry company appeared.

"Failing to grasp the real situation," the communique said, "both German detachments opened rifle and machine gun fire at each other. Over 30 German officers and men were killed."

already assigned him are fully capable of taking up his time."

Asserting that recent farm prices offered little "fear of inflation," the statement asked, "Why is there such a howl when farm prices advance a little? No such howl has come from the secretary at the demand of labor leaders for increased wages."

The group said that the cotton farmer "should now be receiving 30 cents a pound for cotton and the wheat farmer $2 a bushel for wheat, and to talk about inflation until farm prices are around that figure is ridiculous."

Recalling President Roosevelt's recent veto of legislation that would have ordered all government farm surpluses to be withheld from market during the present war, the statement said that the "intent to use these surpluses to control farm prices now being manifest, it is up to congress to take what steps are necessary to assure the farmer that he will not be subjected to the unwarranted use of these surpluses, a presidential veto to the contrary notwithstanding."

A horse 15 hands high is as tall as a man five feet tall since a hand is four inches when figuring the height of a horse.

SAY 22 SHIPS IN CONVOY OF 40 SENT DOWN

than the Berlin radio with a fanfare of trumpets informed the world of the convoy sinkings.

In the first authorized Berlin comment, a Nazi spokesman declared scornfully that "all Roosevelt's contentions are lies" and that Mr. Roosevelt's reference to freedom of the seas was "the peak of hypocrisy."

The president, he said, must bear responsibility for "all consequences."

Other Nazi quarters said the progressing U-boat attack on a Britain-bound convoy in the north Atlantic was an eloquent answer to Mr. Roosevelt.

In Rome, the authoritative Fascist Editor Virginio Gayda, often Premier Mussolini's spokesman, declared that Italian and German warships "exposed now to deliberate aggressive action of American warships," must attack in self-defense if they cannot escape.

The German high command's communiques indicated that the convoy assault began at least a day ago, but still was continuing. It said the U-boats up to date had sent 22 ships totalling 134,000 tons to the bottom of the north Atlantic.

"Two other steamers of 11,000 tons were torpedoed and may be considered lost," the high command said.

"The enemy convoy is still being further attacked."

The report dealt with perhaps the biggest convoy attack in the history of the war.

Otherwise, Nazi officialdom was silent for the time being. At two press conferences, Berlin spokesmen categorically declined to discuss the president's broadcast last night.

German commentators, however, intimated broadly that Mr. Roosevelt's shooting order would not swerve Germany from her avowed campaign to destroy any ships bearing aid to Great Britain, recalling Hitler's own dictum that whatever ships came before German U-boat torpedo tubes would be sunk.

At the same time Italy also announced new submarine raids in the Atlantic. Premier Mussolini's high command credited a Fascist underseas craft with sinking a large oil tanker and probably destroying a 5,450-ton freighter.

Hitler himself was busy addressing an appeal to the German people for winter relief funds, in which he declared that success "unheard of in world history" was rewarding the German soldier's sacrifice "in blood, sweat, worries and privations."

The Berlin radio, commenting on Mr. Roosevelt's speech, asserted:

"Roosevelt's provocations with which he tries to slap Germany in the face naturally leave Germany cool and calm. . . . His entire speech was an attempt to burden Germany now and for the future with all guilt."

In his momentous broadcast, Mr. Roosevelt disclosed he had instructed United States warships to sink on sight any German or Italian raiders entering waters vital to American defense.

"No matter what it takes, no matter what it costs," the president said last night in a broadcast from the White House, protection will be afforded merchant vessels "of any flag" in defense waters.

"No act of violence or intimidation will keep us from maintaining intact two bulwarks of defense; first our line of supply of material to the enemies of Hitler and, second, the freedom of our shipping on the high seas," he said.

The president's warning to Berlin and Rome came as Moscow reports told of bloody setbacks for Adolf Hitler's invading legions on the central Soviet front.

The Germans lost today their last chance to equal Napoleon's 1812 schedule of 83 days for the Warsaw-to-Moscow push.

The Red army newspaper Red Star asserted that Nazis were being driven westward toward Smolensk at a rate of from seven to ten miles a day in one of Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's defense zones.

The 47th German tank corps and associated artillery and infantry units were declared by the Soviet information bureau to have suffered heavy losses in Soviet pincer operations modeled upon the Nazi pattern, with 2,500 of the invaders reported killed in a single engagement.

Berlin military sources, however, expressed belief that the German high command soon would announce Nazi victories in the battle-torn middle sector and along the southern front as well.

Proof of military progress "equal to that being made around Leningrad can be expected," said one dispatch, but there were no German hints as to names or dates.

The military situation at Leningrad itself was clouded. Soviet sources declared approaches to both that second city of the U. S. S. R., and Kiev, the Ukrainian capital, were carpeted with German dead.

Red army pilots from the Baltic fleet were said to have joined army defenders in combatting German planes which have caused 123 air-raid alarms at Leningrad.

Helsinki dispatches said Finnish troops fighting through rain had pushed over swampy lands of Karelia to within 40 miles of Petrozavosk, a station on the Soviet rail line from Leningrad to Murmansk.

British Royal Air Force bombers returned to the aerial offensive against Germany overnight after Wednesday night's heavy attack on northern Italy. Berlin sources said the north German coastal region was raided and one raider was shot down.

Luftwaffe planes struck at England. The London government said some bombs were dropped, mainly in the eastern coastal areas, "causing little damage and injuring a small number of people."

Restoration of labor peace in Oslo, the capital of German-occupied Norway, was reported by the official German news agency, DNB, following the firing squad execution of the union leaders.

"No more incidents have occurred," DNB said.

By contrast, reports reaching Sweden from Oslo declared the spirit of revolt against the German-supported Quisling government was rising swiftly in Norway and that a gigantic conflict appeared imminent.

Many new arrests were reported, and it was said that the Norwegian trade unions, with about 350,000 members, were on edge for a clash with the Nazis, inflamed by Wednesday's firing-squad execution of two labor leaders.

President Roosevelt's address had a world-wide relay and the reaction was of world-wide proportions.

On the southern front, the Russians reported that counter-attacking troops had crossed the lower Dnieper river at four points, captured an island and two villages, and inflicted bloody losses on the Nazi invaders.

FEAR FELT FOR EIGHT ADRIFT

about 70 miles south of the Port Eads-Burrwood area at the mouth of the Mississippi river, turning more definitely westward.

The advisory said the movement would probably continue west-northwestward or westward off the Louisiana coast today attended by shifting gales with winds of 40 to 50 miles an hour near the storm center.

Small craft from Galveston to the Alabama coast were warned against venturing into the gulf.

Highest wind reported to the bureau was 42 miles an hour at Port Eads from the northeast during the night which changed to 30 miles an hour from the northwest at 6:30 a.m. High tides were reported especially on the extreme east coast and lowland residents sought safe locations.

The weather bureau said the disturbance now was moving very slowly, generally west northwestward and that such a slowing up usually indicates a tendency to recurve.

Rising tides early today forced lowland dwellers on the southeast coast of Louisiana to seek higher ground as a tropical disturbance attended by winds of 40 to 50 miles an hour velocity moved inland.

The coast guard cutters Tuckahoe and Camellia late yesterday removed 250 workers who were engaged in the construction of a $1,000,000 naval base at Burrwood at the tip of Southeast Louisiana. The evacuation was asked by contractors.

A 2 a.m. weather bureau advisory said the disturbance was moving very slowly northwest or west northwest with indications that the center would reach the Louisiana coast south of New Orleans by 7 a.m., central standard time.

Storm warnings remained displayed from Panama City, Fla., to Morgan City, La.

more money than the record senate total.

Detailed results of the conference were a closely guarded secret, and the conferees reported that Chairman Doughton, Democrat, North Carolina, had exacted a pledge that the compromise measure be withheld from publication until Monday.

The reason, it was said, was that the house conferees have not yet been chosen officially by the house. Thus, technically, they were without authority to make a compromise agreement. Leaders arranged to have the conferees officially appointed when the house convenes at noon Monday and the committee then was expected to hold a brief official meeting before reporting the compromise measure for expected prompt action in both houses.

It was reported reliably that the conference group accepted a senate amendment, sponsored by Senator Byrd, Democrat, Virginia, setting up a special 14-man committee to investigate methods of reducing non-defense expenditures. The group would be composed of the secretary of the treasury, the budget director and 12 members of the senate and house taxing and appropriations committees.

as soldiers disguised in civilian clothes and sent other troops across concealed in the holds of cargo ships and suddenly struck this trusting friend the most despicable blow of all. It is hard to believe now that this could have happened, but we know it did.

Holland and Belgium were next, both attacked treacherously by night and with no pretense of that honor which Hitler is always preaching to the German people. Two more friendly nations fell in the war on Jewishness and Bolshevism, although Jewishness was negligible in both and Communist Russia was still Hitler's ally.

These more spectacular horrors impressed us more than Hitler's later assaults on Yugoslavia and Greece and, finally, his turn against Russia because, up to then, the mind of civilized men did not believe such things could happen. Thereafter instead of bearing in mind that of such a man and such a nation anything can be expected and the worst cannot even be imagined, we seem to have become dazed.

Even though German spies have been caught in activities which may eventually cost the lives of thousands of our people we regard their treacheries as casual misdemeanor and their trials as police-court routine. Hitler would torture and execute spies caught in similar activities against him, but Americans aren't even interested, much less aroused.

Hitler armed for this war as no nation on earth except, perhaps, his ally, Russia, ever was armed before. War was his ambition from the beginning and Czecho-Slovakia was thrown to the wolves because the British were caught unarmed and unready. Yet Hitler called the British warmongers and many of us, after persistent repetition, began to believe they were. We have even denounced as warmongers men in our own country who took alarm and belatedly began to arm the nation. His words drug some who, nevertheless, hold themselves to be wise and practical patriots.

There is no mystery about the identity of the enemy. There is no doubt of his intention to reduce this country to the position of a second-rate partner, like France, in a Bolshevik world, there being no difference between Bolshevism and Hitlerism except in the color of the shirt and the device on the banners.

Lest we forget, Hitler is the reason why the United States has had to drop every other work, suspend all progress and the reason why all those thousands of young American men have had to quit their homes, their jobs and school to learn to fight a war.

ST. MATTHEW'S NOW ENROLLING MANY

Students at the rate of 30 to 40 a day are being enrolled at St. Matthew's Parochial school for the coming term, it was stated Friday. Indications are that there will be a large number to enter. The opening date is not set, but it is anticipated that it will be on or about September 22.

Music and the kindergarten will be featured this term, it is said. Special emphasis will be given to the course in music which is said to be of superior excellence. Any interested in this course are asked to call by phone 671 and discuss the matter with Sister Superior.

Military aircraft—Here, Biggers said, he could give actual figures.

"One year ago we turned out 500 planes a month," he said. "In July, 1941, the figure was 1,455 while in August it was 1,854. By December it will be above 2,000.

Military rifles—Production twice what it was a year ago. Modest increases expected from now on.

Smokeless powder—Four times what it was a year ago and will increase 20 per cent between now and December.

Tanks—"A good many hundreds are being produced each month," Biggers said. "And the total will be doubled between now and December."

20 and 37-millimeter guns—No production a year ago. Fair production now, which will be doubled by December.

"I know there has been disappointment about American production," Biggers said. "But you must remember the very nature of mass production means you consume a lot of time getting started. Once you line up your industries you get your harvest of effort."

Biggers estimated the United States will be turning out a ship a day by next year. He said he brought with him to Britain two machine tool experts—Adolph Foerster of Cincinnati and Charles Moore of San Francisco.

Those in charge of the soldiers' recreation center on North Fourth street, state that they have been aided by many persons in their labors, especially by several college boys. They name Basil Church and his band composed of Joe Coulter, Donald Grasby, Jerry Hamilton, Ingus Hollingsworth, Lloyd Barham and Tommy Elroy.

These young men have donated their services at several dances held in the Twin Cities, especially at Northeast Junior college, Barkdull Faulk school, Grace Episcopal church, Brown Paper mill gymnasium, and at the recreation center.

You Must Help To Protect Local Supplies Of Food

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox
(NEA Service Staff Writer)

Total defense begins at home. To protect your family against runaway food prices, hidden cuts in quality of processed foods, against local profiteering and inadequate supplies of essential foods, you, yourself, must do something. Don't leave the job to others while you sit home and complain.

MENU

BREAKFAST: Sliced oranges, oatmeal, blueberry muffins, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Potato soup, chopped salad of green cabbage, celery, green lettuce, and top onions with French dressing, "enriched" bread toast, stewed blackberries, cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Left-over meat stew with carrots, corn, parsley and onion, mashed potatoes, Frenched green beans, radishes, plum pie, cheese, coffee, milk.

Harriet Elliott, associate administrator and consumer adviser, office of price administration and civilian supply, says: "The basic principle which should guide measures for consumer protection is effective use of available community resources and participation by all groups of consumers in the community."

"Democratic defense depends," she adds, "on making these problems a matter of community concern, a responsibility of all. At the same time it is of primary importance that the efforts of various groups, such as women's clubs, church groups, labor organizations, negro organizations, etc., be integrated and co-ordinated and that the gaps between separate efforts be filled in. It is the function of state and local defense councils to provide such co-ordination and to take the lead in filling the gaps."

These state and local defense councils are of vital importance to every local woman. The consumer representative on these councils has two general responsibilities: (1) to see that the needs of civilian consumers are considered and cared for as the defense program develops in states and localities; (2) to help direct the activities of local consumers so that their industrial and group action may keep their living costs within bounds and protect their living standards.

If the Food Stamp Plan is in the community, see that it is widely advertised and utilized. If the plan is not in operation locally, investigate the need and apply for its introduction if conditions warrant; encourage the school lunch program and nutrition education classes and cooperative gardening and preserving programs; see that milk is available to all. Support the "penny-a-glass" program for school children, low-cost milk programs, and dry skim milk for homes where the cost of regular fluid milk is prohibitive.

Hard Sauce

4 teaspoons sweet butter
1 cup Godchaux XXXXXX sugar
1 tablespoon brandy flavoring
2 egg whites

Cream the butter and add Godchaux sugar gradually. Beat until quite light, then add egg whites and beat until frothy. Add flavoring, pile on serving dish and sprinkle with nutmeg. Place in refrigerator or other cold place to harden.

Delicious Vegetable Stew Flavored With Ketchup

A Happy Surprise for the Family on a Meatless Day Is a Substantial Vegetable Stew That's Savory and Spicy. Deviled Egg Salad on Curly Endive, Hot Muffins and Apple Butter Complete the Menu.

By CAROL BRUECK
Heinz Home Institute

IT'S THE flavor that counts in a stew—a rich spiciness and savoriness and a good blending of vegetables. Some good cooks obtain the perfection that is a stew by a process of adding-and-tasting. With a tested recipe, though, you have a delectable stew every time without having to stand over it adding a bit of this and a dash of that.

The following recipe makes an all-vegetable stew using full-bodied tomato ketchup for its savor and spice—a grand meal-in-a-dish for meatless days and also for keeping the food budget in hand. It's a quick meal, too, considering that it's a stew—that simmers away without your having to stop to measure out seasonings. Surprise your family with this tasty combination one of these crisp Fall days.

Vegetable Stew

Cook 2 medium carrots, halved and cut in 1½-inch pieces, with 1 dozen pearl onions in 3 cups boiling water about 30 minutes. Then add 1½ teaspoons salt and 4 medium potatoes, diced. Cook just until the potatoes are tender. Drain the vegetables, reserving the liquid, then add ½ cup cooked peas and ½ cup cooked corn. Brown all together in ¼ cup butter. Stir in 2 tablespoons flour and add ⅓ cup tomato ketchup and 2 tablespoons chopped parsley. Return the vegetable water to the vegetables and cook until thickened. Serves 4.

Wives Can Help National Defense With Good Meals

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox
(NEA Service Staff Writer)

If the man of your house "works with his muscles" all day long, you can make his work easier and do your part for national defense by giving him the food he needs to do his job.

MENU

Breakfast: Tomato juice, brown rice, top milk, toast, coffee, milk.

Luncheon: Cream of corn soup, enriched bread and butter, cabbage and apple salad, tea, milk.

Dinner: Kidney bean and chopped meat loaf, mashed potatoes, buttered kohlrabi, celery, pineapple Bavarian cream, coffee, milk.

Let the "Nutrition Yardstick," the list of foods one should eat every day for good health, be your guide, but remember that the hard work he does requires a diet high in complete protein—which means meat, fowl or fish, so go easy on the cream puffs.

Hard muscular labor can be compared to small fires started all over a forest. If fire fighters immediately extinguish the fires and plant young trees a future forest is saved. The same is true of the body. Every time a man lifts a shovel of dirt he burns up part of the muscle, destroying the tissue that keeps it going. An adequate supply of the complete proteins found in meat extinguishes the blaze and rebuilds the tissues.

Here is a typical day's menu for a laboring man:

Breakfast: Grapefruit juice, scrambled chipped beef and eggs, whole-wheat cereal, toast, jelly, coffee, milk.

Lunch: Braised chuck steak, smothered cabbage, New England potatoes, baking powder biscuits, chocolate pudding, milk.

Dinner: Oyster chowder, hamburger casserole, pickled beets, creamed potatoes, banana-orange salad, berry tarts, coffee, milk.

HAMBURGER CASSEROLE
(Four servings)

One 8-ounce package macaroni, 1-2 cup minced onion, 1-4 cup minced green pepper, 2 tablespoons shortening, 1 1-2 pounds ground lamb, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 4 tablespoons grated cheese, 1 cup hot medium white sauce, 1-2 cup canned tomatoes.

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender; drain. Saute onion and green pepper in shortening until tender. Add meat to onion and pepper and cook, stirring frequently, for 15 minutes. Add salt and pepper. Add half of the grated cheese to white sauce, then gradually add tomatoes, stirring constantly. Arrange alternate layers of macaroni, lamb, and tomato sauce in a well-buttered casserole. Sprinkle with remaining cheese. Bake uncovered, in a moderate oven (375 degrees Fahrenheit) for 30 minutes.

Ham Patties

Mixed and "patted" at your convenience, these patties can be sizzled in a hurry and served piping hot from the griddle with grilled pineapple rings.

2 cups left-over ham (ground)
6 crackers rolled fine
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1½ teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons chopped onion
2 eggs
4 tablespoons shortening
5 pineapple rings.

Mix ham, crackers, eggs, mustard, salt and onion. Shape into 5 patties. Melt shortening in skillet. Brown ham patties. Serve at once on pineapple rings. Serves five.

Fried Chicken

3 pound chicken
1 egg
1 cup milk
1 cup cracker meal
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ cup shortening

Cut chicken in serving pieces. Mix slightly beaten egg with milk. Combine cracker meal, salt and pepper. Roll each piece of chicken in cracker meal, dip in milk-egg mixture, and roll again in cracker meal. Fry in hot fat in skillet until brown. Reduce heat and cook for 25 minutes. So good served hot, or cold with nice thin bread and butter sandwiches.

Mocha Torte

½ cup strong black Admiration coffee
6 eggs
2 cups powdered sugar
½ teaspoon each, all spice, cinnamon and cloves
1 tablespoon grated chocolate
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon yeast powder
½ cup chopped almonds.

Beat yolks with sugar until light. Stir in Admiration coffee. Add melted chocolate and rest of ingredients. Fold in stiff whites. Bake in two or three layers.

Wooden nickels were in circulation in Ottawa, Kan., when merchants handed them out to advertise a festival.

Chocolate Wheat Wafers

These thin chocolate wheat wafers are a pleasing combination of crisp shredded wheat and rich cocolate chips.

1 cup sifted Wheatsworth flour
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter
1 cup dark brown sugar, firmly packed
1 egg
¾ cup semi-sweet chocolate chips
1 teaspoon vanilla
¾ cup crushed shredded wheat

Sift flour and salt. Cream butter and sugar thoroughly. Add egg and dry ingredients. Add chocolate, vanilla and shredded wheat crumbs. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased baking sheet two inches apart. Bake in (350 degrees F.) oven 15 minutes. yield: 3 1-2 dozen cookies.

Shrimp Savory

4 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons minced onion
3 tablespoons minced green pepper
4 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of paprika
2½ cups canned or fresh shrimps
Rusk

Melt butter, cook onion and green pepper in fat five minutes. Add flour stir well, then add milk gradually. Stir and cook until thick. Rinse off shrimp with cold water and remove dark vein running down back. Add to sauce. Simmer five minutes. Serve on lightly buttered Rusk. Serves 6.

Wheat Custard Pudding

Shredded wheat lends itself as an ingredient for making many delicious dishes. We recommend the refreshing shredded wheat pudding.

¼ cup butter
1 cup crushed shredded wheat
2 cups applesauce
2 tablespoons sugar
2 eggs
1 cup milk
¼ teaspoon salt

Place a layer of dots of butter, about two tablespoons, in bottom of baking dish. Cover with a layer of shredded wheat and a layer of applesauce. Top with sugar. Repeat layers until half the baking dish is filled. Make a custard of eggs, milk and salt. Pour on top. Bake in moderate oven one-half hour.

Mocha Tart

2 tablespoons Admiration coffee
1 cup sugar
4 yolks—beaten until creamy thick
1 cup flour—sifted three times, add one teaspoon yeast powder
5 whites—beaten stiff

Bake in three layers.

SECURITY CARDS REQUIRE CARE

Thoughtlessness Often Causes Worry To Family Or Survivors

Workers holding social security account number cards were today cautioned by P. L. Dark, manager of the Monroe office of the social security board, to exercise more care in guarding against the loss of their account number cards and in showing their cards to every employer for whom they work.

"We find," Mr. Dark stated, "that a substantial number of workers, through carelessness or lack of foresight, are causing themselves or their survivors a great deal of unnecessary worry and trouble in establishing their rights to benefits under the old-age and survivors insurance provisions of th e social security act. This is brought about in many instances by the worker himself when he loses his card or for any reason does not have his card available when he goes on a new job. Every worker subject to the provisions of the act is required to have a social security account number, and every employer covered by the act is required to report all employes, their account numbers, and total earnings on the employer's quarterly tax returns. Failure on the part of either to comply with the requirements only serves to confuse the worker's old-age and survivors insurance account, resulting, in some cases, in a reduction of benefits payable since the amount of benefits is based on the worker's total earnings. Negligence on the part of either may even result in the loss of all benefits." Mr. Dark stated. "A case in point: In order to qualify for benefits a worker must have a certain number of quarters in which he earned at least $50 per quarter. Suppose then that Joe Johnson, a worker, dies leaving a widow and three children under the age of 18, each of whom will be entitled to monthly benefits if Joe has fulfilled the requirements.

"In due time, Joe's widow calls at the field office of the social security board and files her claim. She furnishes proof of marriage, proof of death, proof of date of birth of her three children, and the field office sends a request to its records division in Baltimore for a photostatic copy of Joe's wage record. At the same time, the field office requests Joe's last employer to furnish a statement of all wages paid to Joe during the lag period in order to bring his wage record completely up to date. Let us assume in this case that eight quarters of coverage are required. Joe's wage record, however, shows only six or seven quarters. Unless satisfactory evidence can be produced to show that Joe did have eight quarters of coverage, neither the widow nor the children will receive benefits.

"The widow does not know where Joe worked because his employment was intermittent or because Joe worked out of town. Nevertheless, she, with the assistance of the field office, undertakes the task of establishing Joe's true wage record back to January 1, 1937, when the law became effective. Here and there, through relatives, friends, employers, unions, and Joe's fellow workers, and through request for assistance from other field offices, it may be shown that Joe did have two, three, or even more quarters of coverage than is required. Such proof usually discloses that all of this unnecessary work and worry could have been avoided had Joe taken better care of his social security account card and presented it to each of his employers or if each employer had insisted that Joe present his card as required.

"Mothers and wives can be most helpful in guarding against loss of social security cards and in checking with working members of their families to make certain that they have presented their cards to every employer," Mr. Dark stated. "Account number cards should be placed with other valuable papers and should be readily available when needed. Workers should not carry them around in their pocket books unless they are seeking employment," Mr. Dark added.

'NAVY BLUE AND GOLD'

James Stewart, Robert Young and Florence Rice are enjoying themselves in "Navy Blue and Gold," opening today on the Paramount screen. This is the story of Annapolis and football and romance with the Jimmy Stewart flavor.

DEAD HEAT

MANHATTAN, Kas.—(AP)—Animal tragedy: W. H. Mugler saw a dead rabbit and a dead hound on opposite sides of a road. He surmised a car hit them while the dog was chasing the rabbit.

TEXT OF TALK BY ROOSEVELT

time and time again, in all our history.

Our policy has applied from time immemorial—and still applies—not merely to the Atlantic but to the Pacific and to all other oceans as well.

Unrestricted submarine warfare in 1941 constitutes a defiance—an act of aggression—against that historic American policy.

It is now clear that Hitler has begun his campaign to control the seas by ruthless force and by wiping out every vestige of international law and humanity.

His intention has been made clear. The American people can have no further illusions about it.

No tender whisperings of appeasers that Hitler is not interested in the Western Hemisphere, no soporific lullabies that a wide ocean protects us from him—can long have any effect on the hard-headed, far-sighted and realistic American people.

Because of these episodes, because of the movements and operations of German warships, and because of the clear, repeated proof that the present government of Germany has no respect for treaties or for international law, that it has no decent attitude toward neutral nations or human life—we Americans are now face to face not with abstract theories but with cruel, relentless facts.

This attack on the Greer was no localized military operation in the north Atlantic. This was no mere episode in a struggle between two nations. This was one determined step towards creating a permanent world system based on force, terror and murder.

And I am sure that even now the Nazis are waiting to see whether the United States will by silence give them the green light to go ahead on this path of destruction.

The Nazi danger to our Western world has long ceased to be a mere possibility. The danger is here now—not only from a military enemy but from an enemy of all law, all liberty, all morality, all religion.

There has now come a time when you and I must see the sold mexorable necessity of saying to these inhuman, unrestrained seekers of world conquest and permanent world domination by the sword—"You seek to throw our children and our children's children into your form of terrorism and slavery. You have now attacked our own safety. You shall go no further."

Normal practices of diplomacy—note writing—are of no possible use in dealing with international outlaws who sink our ships and kill our citizens.

One peaceful nation after another has met disaster because each refused to look the Nazi danger squarely in the eye until it actually had them by the throat.

The United States will not make that fatal mistake.

No act of violence or intimidation will keep us from maintaining intact two bulwarks of defense: First, our line of supply of materiel to the enemies of Hitler, and second, the freedom of our shipping on the high seas.

No matter what it takes, no matter what it costs, we will keep open the line of legitimate commerce in these defensive waters.

We have sought no shooting war with Hitler. We do not seek it now. But neither do we want peace so much, that we are willing to pay for it by permitting him to attack our naval and merchant ships while they are on legitimate business.

I assume that the German leaders are not deeply concerned by what we Americans say or publish about them. We cannot bring about the downfall of Nazism by the use of long-range invective.

But when you see a rattlesnake poised to strike, you do not wait until he has struck before you crush him.

These Nazi submarines and raiders are the rattlesnakes of the Atlantic. They are a menace to the free pathways of the high seas. They are a challenge to our sovereignty. They hammer at our most precious rights when they attack ships of the American flag—symbols of our independence, our freedom, our very life.

It is clear to all Americans that the time has come when the Americas themselves must now be defended. A continuation of attacks in our own waters, or in waters which could be used for further and greater attacks on us, will inevitably weaken American ability to repel Hitlerism.

Do not let us split hairs. Let us not ask ourselves whether the Americas should begin to defend themselves after the fifth attack, or the tenth attack, or the twentieth attack.

The time for active defense is now.

Do not let us split hairs. Let us not say—"We will only defend ourselves if the torpedo succeeds in getting home, or if the crew and the passengers are drowned."

This is the time for prevention of attack.

If submarines or raiders attack in distant waters, they can attack equally well within sight of our own shores. Their very presence in any waters which America deems vital to its defense constitutes an attack.

In the waters which we deem necessary for our defense, American naval vessels and American planes will no longer wait until Axis submarines lurking under the water, or Axis raiders on the surface of the sea, strike their deadly blow—first.

Upon our naval and air patrol—now operating in large number over a vast expanse of the Atlantic ocean—falls the duty of maintaining the American policy of freedom of the seas—now. That means, very simply and clearly, that our patrolling vessels and planes will protect all merchant ships—not only American ships but ships of any flag—engaged in commerce in our defensive waters. They will protect them from submarines; they will protect them from surface raiders.

This situation is not new. The second president of the United States, John Adams, ordered the United States navy to clean out European privateers and European ships of war which were infesting the Caribbean and South American waters, destroying American commerce.

The third president of the United States, Thomas Jefferson, ordered the United States navy to end the attacks being made upon American ships by the corsairs of the nations of North Africa.

My obligation as president is historic; it is clear; it is inescapable.

It is no act of war on our part when we decide to protect the seas which are vital to American defense. The aggression is not ours. Ours is solely defense.

But let this warning be clear. From now on, if German or Italian vessels of war enter the waters, the protection of which is necessary for American defense, they do so at their own peril.

The orders which I have given as commander-in-chief to the United States army and navy are to carry out that policy—at once.

The sole responsibility rests upon Germany. There will be no shooting unless Germany continues to seek it.

That is my obvious duty in this crisis. That is the clear right of this sovereign nation. That is the only step possible, if we would keep tight the wall of defense which we are pledged to maintain around this Western Hemisphere.

I have no illusions about the gravity of this step. I have not taken it hurriedly or lightly. It is the result of months and months of constant thought and anxiety and prayer. In the protection of your nation and mine it cannot be avoided.

The American people have faced other grave crises in their history—with American courage and American resolution. They will do no less today.

They know the actualities of the attacks upon us. They know the necessities of a bold defense against these attacks. They know that the times call for clear heads and fearless hearts.

And with that inner strength that comes to a free people conscious of their duty and of the righteousness of what they do, they will—with divine help and guidance—stand their ground against this latest assault upon their democracy, their sovereignty, and their freedom.

Mechanics Need Meat To Keep Up Their Pep

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox
(NEA Service Staff Writer)

Every housewife should feed her family the correct variety of foods as specified by the "Nutritional Yardstick" developed at the recent conference on nutrition in Washington, but it's only common sense to know that an arm-chair addict does not need what a steel worker does.

If your husband is a mechanic, his job in an aircraft factory or garage requires an average daily caloric intake of from 2800 to 3300 calories in a well-balanced diet that includes meat or other complete proteins, milk, eggs, cereals, vegetables and fruit. Meat is important, not only to satisfy the natural hunger that comes from hard work, but to supply the vitamins and minerals newly found in meat (especially the vitamin B group) and the complete protein in meat that builds and maintains the body tissue, bone and muscles.

To maintain her husband's nutritional health the wife of the average mechanic should provide him with a well-balanced diet that includes two large servings of meat, fowl or fish at two meals or three average servings at three meals.

MENU

Breakfast: Sliced oranges, whole-wheat muffins, jelly, coffee, milk.

Luncheon: Egg and tomato, endive salad, toasted enriched bread cheese sandwiches, grapes, tea, milk.

Dinner: Spareribs and sauerkraut, potatoes boiled in jackets, buttered beets, rolls, apple pie, coffee, milk.

A typical day's menu should be this:

Breakfast: Pineapple juice, cooked whole grain cereal, bacon, whole-wheat toast, jelly, coffee, milk.

Lunch: Cold sandwich meats, tomatoes, celery, raisin-nut bread, potato salad, orange custard, milk.

Dinner: Half grapefruit, baked beef loaf, glazed carrots, boiled potatoes, wheat bread, fresh fruit, coffee, milk.

BAKED BEEF LOAF
(Six servings)

Two pounds ground beef chuck, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 3-4 cup soft bread crumbs, 3 teaspoons salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons cream, 1-3 cup canned tomatoes.

Mix all ingredients thoroughly. Spread strips of bacon to cover bottom of loaf pan. Turn beef mixture into pan and bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) for one hour.

CATHOLICS PLAN 2 NEW SCHOOLS

Franciscan Sisters Arrive In Monroe; To Teach Classes

Four Franciscan sisters yesterday arrived in Monroe, where they will teach at the School of the Little Flower for negroes which will open in the near future for the first time.

Arriving here on a Missouri Pacific train from Our Lady of Perpetual Help convent at St. Louis, were Sister Mary Benvenute, superior; Sister Mary Celine, Sister Mary Luke and Sister Mary Gerada. The sisters will stay at the home adjoining the school.

Kindergarten and the first four elementary grades will be taught. The building was completed only a few weeks ago and is located near the church on 18th street. The negro school was erected by the Rev. Anselm Reckamps, O. F. M.

Other Franciscan sisters are expected to arrive soon to teach at the new St. Paschal's school in West Monroe.

DEATH OF DANCER IS INVESTIGATED

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(AP)—An autopsy was scheduled today in the death of Mary Woodruff, titian-haired dancer whose body was found yesterday in her apartment after a series of mysterious telephone calls from a man who expressed concern because the windows were open.

Miss Woodruff, who danced in Greenwich Village and midtown restaurants under the name of Mary Barton, was found dead in bed, a magazine and a supply of sleeping pills beside her. Assistant Medical Examiner Philip Goldstein said there was little doubt an overdose had caused death.

Meanwhile police searched for a middle-aged, bespectacled man who called first at her apartment house Monday evening, requesting that the windows of her apartment be closed. Lorentz Larsen, handyman, said the man told him Miss Woodruff had gone to California unexpectedly.

Larsen told police he went to the apartment and, entering with a passkey, saw Miss Woodruff apparently asleep in bed. He left quietly and discovered that the man had disappeared.

Yesterday a man, believed to be the same one, made three telephone calls to Mrs. Thelma Erickson, superintendent of the apartment house, requesting again that the windows be closed. On the last call Mrs. Erickson, who meanwhile had discovered the body, told him:

"The girl is dead. You'd better come right over."

"No, sir! Not me!" she said the man fairly shouted into the telephone before hanging up.

Friends said that Miss Woodruff, when last seen, had said she was going to California. She was reported to have been despondent because her professional career was not progressing more rapidly.

Lowest temperature ever recorded in the United States was 66 degrees below zero, in Yellowstone Park, on February 9, 1933.

BUSINESS SHOOTS UP FAST

RICHMOND, Va.—(AP)—With the temperature hovering around 100 degrees, Carl Windel, Des Moines specialty salesman, decided that people should be thinking about one of his products—thermometers. They really should boom, he surmised.

He opened his automobile, gasped at the oven-like heat, and found that they were booming. Every single one had burst.

CARDS STILL CAN TAKE LEAD IN DODGER SERIES

TWO VICTORIES WOULD PLACE SQUAD AHEAD

Brooklyn's Win Yesterday, However, Puts Pressure On St. Louis

By Judson Bailey
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The stupendous struggle of the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers for the National League pennant keeps piling climax on top of climax.

Yesterday the Dodgers battled to a 6-4 triumph over the Cardinals in 11 innings of baseball as tense and thrilling as any world series session could be and yet their series has two more contests to go and as much remains to be decided as though the season were in its infancy.

The victory boosted the Dodgers' lead to two full games, a wonderful cushion to have at a time like this, and it concentrated the pressure on the Cardinals. But it didn't remove the crisis that existed before the series started because St. Louis still could regain first place by two percentage points by capturing the encounters today and tomorrow.

The standings now:

Brooklyn	89	49	.645
St. Louis	86	50	.632

The difference between the two teams yesterday was just two men—Dolph Camilli and Dixie Walker of the Dodgers. Camilli clouted his 33rd homer with two on to climax a four-run rally in the fourth inning. Walker singled with the bases loaded in the 11th for the winning runs.

Ernie White, young Cardinal left-hander, allowed only seven hits over the long route. Yet his hurling actually was not as effective as that of fat, 40-year-old Fred Fitzsimmons, who gave up 10 hits before being removed for a pinchhitter in the 11th.

In the other National League action, the New York Giants crushed the Cincinnati Reds, 6-0, with four-hit pitching by Bob Carpenter and a five-run fifth inning. The Pittsburgh Pirates and Boston Braves divided a doubleheader. The Pirates took the opener, 7-5, scoring four runs in the second to make Ken Heintzelman's task easy. In the nightcap Tom Earley pitched a 10-0 shutout for the Braves, with the Pirates making six errors.

The Detroit Tigers evened their season's series with the New York Yankees at 10-all by wringing out a 5-4 decision in 12 innings. With the bases loaded in the final chapter Pinky Higgins slapped a grounder down the third-base line and Dutch Meyer beat the throw home.

Herman Besse rejoined the Philadelphia Athletics and clipped the Chicago White Sox, 2-1, in a pitching duel with Johnny Rigney in which each gave six hits. Cleveland defeated the Washington Senators, 8-5 and 3-2, with the Senators making five errors to throw away the first encounter and Al Milnar pitching a five-hitter in the nightcap.

SOUTH PUSHES BID FOR TITLE

Southern Golf Stars Win In Women's National Amateur Tourney

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 12.—(AP)—With a victor in each bracket, the South took a firmer grip Thursday on the Women's National Amateur golfing crown—a title southern golfers have dominated for three of the past four years.

The South's strongest title claimant appeared to be Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page of Greensboro, N. C., the 1937 champion, who became a semi-finalist for the third time in five years by defeating Janet Younker of White Plains, N. Y., 5 and 4 in today's quarter-final play at the Country club.

In the upper half, Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Fort Worth, Tex., outfought Mrs. Sylva Annenberg Leichner of Flushing, N. Y., the persistent Metropolitan titlist, for a 19-hole match.

The East and West could not miss sharing the other triumphs for sectional rivals were forced to compete against each other.

As a result, Helen Sigel of Philadelphia, moved against Mrs. Goldthwaite after gaining a 1 up win over Mrs. Reinert M. Torgerson of Great Neck, N. Y., and Mrs. Betty Hicks Newell of Long Beach, Calif., drew Mrs. Page, after besting Clara Callender of Pasadena, Calif., a 1940 semi-finalist, by a 2 and 1 margin.

By registering the most one-sided triumph of the day, Mrs. Page avenged the South, for Miss Younker had stunned that golfing sector by putting out its brilliant defending champion, Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., in the first round.

Mrs. Page went out in 40 to become one up at the ninth and won the next four holes by playing one-under-par over that stretch. She then wound up the match by going one over on the short 14th for a half.

The day's most stirring comeback was made by Miss Sigel, who was three down to Mrs. Torgerson as they went to the 11th tee. Thanks to her accurate play, the Philadelphia girl won the next three holes to pull even and gained her winning margin by driving the short 16th and two-putting while her opponent took three after being trapped.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(AP)—No matter what happens from here on, the boys can't make any more cracks about the Dodgers' old men. . . . Fred Fitzsimmons is the daddy of them all and if anybody could give a better or more courageous performance that he did yesterday, we'd like to hear about it. . . . And Fitz hasn't been getting any too much help, either—thirteen errors behind him in the past four games he's pitched. . . . Anyway, Peewee Reese's contributions to the error list are making Joe Cronin look good. He's maintained all along the kid wasn't a major leaguer. . . . And how the Yanks must have laughed when they heard the teams that want to play them in the world series had kicked eight chances in one game. . . . Michael Smith, a Brooklyn embalmer who is a red-hot Dodger fan, joined the club on the way to St. Louis and for a while yesterday it looked as if he could go right to work on Brooklyn's pennant hopes. . . . The excitement over this series isn't limited to Flatbush and St. Looey, either. . . . So many newspapers sent men to cover the games that they had to build an emergency press stand to take care of the overflow. . . . If they don't win today, the Cards had better change their brand of vitamin pills. . . . Dolph Camilli is Brooklyn's chief consumer of pep pellets and you saw what he did. . . . Dolph takes two kinds and the boys say the big ones are for homers and the little 'uns for smaller-sized baschits.

SERVICE DEPT.

Lieutenant Carl Newsome of the air corps, formerly sports editor of the High Point (N. C.) Enterprise, asks how about running a few more notes on what the boys in the army camps are doing. . . . Well, here goes. . . . Lieutenant Newsome has been stationed in three camps in the past 10 weeks, Fort Bragg (N. C.), Maxwell Field (Ala.) and Baton Rouge (La.) air base. . . . One of the guys with him at Baton Rouge is Waddy Young, the old Oklahoma all-American. . . . Last year Coach Vee Green of Drake had five varsity fullbacks and five on the freshman squad. Now one is in the marines, two in the army, one in the flying corps and one of the frosh took a job in an airplane factory, leaving one letterman and four other yearlings, who promptly became ineligible. . . . The Moffett Field (Calif.) flyers have lined up a nine-game grid schedule, starting September 20 against Nevada. . . .

Maybe they could lend a few games to Will Rogers air base in Oklahoma, which started practice with no equipment, no schedule and an uncertain squad but with plenty of enthusiasm. . . . Marsh Farmer, the one-armed hurdler from Texas Tech, would like to join the air corps if they'd take him. . . . He figures if he can rope and brand calves with one hand, piloting a plane shouldn't be too hard. . . . Rhoten Shetley, ex-Furman fullback, is at Fort Bragg and plans to play with the new Charlotte (N. C.) pro outfit this fall. . . . The 260th coast artillery, which is a long way from the coast at El Paso, Tex., has put in a bid for a spot in the Sun bowl January 1. . . .

BEARS BEAT STARS

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The Chicago Bears overwhelmed the college all-stars, 23 to 6, tonight before a throng of 38,000 in the Cross-Pishon American Legion post's annual charity football game at Fenway park. The stars fought well through the first half, but could not withstand the surge of the Chicago backs as the game wore on. The lone star score came in the final period on Charlie O'Rourke's pass to Lou Montgomery.

DETROIT GOES EXTRA INNINGS TO BEAT YANKS

Tally In 12th Frame Gives Bengals 5-4 Victory Over Bombers

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers, only team that the New York Yankees haven't been able to dominate over the season, nosed out the new American league champions 5 to 4 in 12 innings Thursday.

The rivals matched runs in every inning up till the final frame, when the Tigers loaded the bases on a single by Dutch Meyer, a two-base error and an intentional walk and Meyer beat the throw home when Pinky Higgins grounded to Third Baseman Gerry Pridday.

INDIANS TAKE TWO

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians turned back Washington's last place Senators twice Thursday, 8 to 5 and 3 to 2, behind Al Smith's shaky 10-hit hurling in the opener and Al Milnar's 5-blow performance in the nightcap.

Washington errors paved the way for the Indians in both contests. In the first game, Buddy Lewis threw over the second baseman's head to allow a pair of Cleveland runners to score. Rookie Sherrid Robertson, tossed the ball into the stands in the first inning of the nightcap to send one Indian home and put another on third.

Dodgers Score Two In 11th To Beat Cardinals, 6 To 4

Single By Walker With Bases Loaded Breaks Up Ball Game

By J. H. Anderson

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Battling Brooklyn boosted its first place margin in the red-hot National league race to two games over the courageous Cardinals Thursday by beating them 6 to 4 in 11 innings.

Two runs in the eleventh when the Cards had some hard luck provided the victory margin in the first of three games which may determine the eventual champion of the circuit.

Both teams appeared jittery in the field at times, four errors being charged to each side.

To start off the final scoring, Joe Medwick, once a Cardinal favorite, slapped a hot liner which Jimmy Brown leaped and caught, then dropped. His throw to first was high, Cookie Lavagetto walked on the second free trip to first off Rookie Ernie White, who outpitched the veteran Fred Fitzsimmons, and then Dolph Camilli laid down what was intended for a sacrifice bunt but big Johnny Mize slipped as he ran in to field it and the bases were full.

Dixie Walker, without a hit all day, sliced a clean single to short center which easily would have driven in one run but two crossed the plate when Hopp got his feet tangled up in the ball. The Dodgers then went down in order but the damage had been done and the Cards weren't even a threat in their half.

Manager Leo Durocher and his men were protesting and kicking about decisions all day.

The argument was especially intense in the eighth inning when nearly all the Dodgers clustered around the plate yelling that White had balked and that Pete Reiser, the National league's leading hitter who had tripled, should be allowed to score. But plate umpire Al Barlick held his ground despite the vociferous yelps of Durocher and Medwick.

Except for a bad fourth inning White might have won. He started off by fanning the first three Dodgers—Peewee Reese, Billy Herman and Reiser. Only three balls were tossed to Herman and all were perfect strikes.

GIANTS BLANK REDS

CINCINNATI, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The New York Giants waded into John Vander Meer for five runs in the fifth inning Thursday and shut out the Cincinnati Reds 6 to 0 on the masterful 4-hit hurling of Bob Carpenter.

Bill Jurges' double with the bases loaded was the big blow in New York's decisive uprising. A double by Babe Young knocked in another run against Whitey Moore in the sixth.

Altogether Cincinnati used four pitchers to hold the Giants to six hits.

PIRATES, BRAVES SPLIT

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The Pirates split a double header with the Braves Thursday annexing the first, 7 to 5 and dropping the nightcap, 10 to 0, but managed to pick up a half-game on the Reds, now trailing Cincinnati by a half game in their third place battle.

Kenny Heintzelman, although shaky at times, got credit for the opener. The Pirates kayoed Manuel Salvo with four runs in the second frame, two coming across on Debs Garms' second hit. The Braves scored three unearned runs in the fifth on Fletcher's wild throw with the bases filled.

Tom Earley had things under control in the nightcap and his mates took full advantage of six Pirate misplays. Johnny Gee, making his initial start in two years, had to leave in the second inning when the infield fell apart.

WRIGHT KNOCKS OUT ARCHIBALD IN 11TH

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Chalky Wright, tough little Los Angeles negro, knocked out Joey Archibald in the 11th of a scheduled 15-round fight Thursday night to gain the world featherweight crown as recognized in New York and Maryland.

Wright floored Archibald for the count with a left hook and a terrific straight right to the jaw after 54 seconds of the 11th frame. The Californian was far out in front on points at the time.

Each boy weighed 124 pounds.

Wright carried the battle to Archibald, a fine little fighting machine from Povidence, R. I., from the start. Using a rapier-like left to the face and a hard, straight right to the body, he time and again backed Joey into the ropes, and only Archibald's superior defensive boxing skill saved him from earlier defeat.

The knockout was the sole knockdown of the bout. Archibald, after losing the early rounds by substantial margins, began to open up in the ninth. He was tired, however, and dropped his guard in the 11th just long enough for the negro to send home the final punches.

On the Associated Press score card, Wright was credited with seven rounds, Archibald with two and two were called even.

LIONS BEGIN GRID SEASON HERE TONIGHT

Junior College Stadium Will Be Scene Of Clash With Ruston

The first football game of the season here will be played at Brown stadium at Northeast Junior college tonight, and it won't be of the "warmup" variety.

The Ouachita Parish High school Lions jump right into the thick of their conference schedule by meeting the veteran Ruston Bearcats. The game is slated to start at 8 p. m.

The Lions have a most promising squad, but it's inexperienced; the Bearcats have a starting team of veterans—which held last year's Lions to a 6-6 tie—with nine lettermen in the starting lineup. The game has been dubbed a "toss-up" by Ouachita coaches, Mack Avants and Mac Givens.

With the exception of two backs, the Cats can place the identical team on the field which put up a thrilling battle against the Lions last year. "Hoss' Garrett, Ruston coach, said he was well pleased with his squad this season and predicted a good year for the Bearcats. He said it was the best team Ruston has had in years.

Four players who will be starting their first ball game will be in the Ouachita opening lineup. Cook, Cain, Robinson and Sikes will be starting their first varsity contest. The outcome of the game will be largely determined by the play of these boys, Coach Avants said last night.

The Ouachita offense is built around Jack Jackson, a triple-threat back who has looked plenty good in preliminary training. According to Avants, Jackson is the best blocking back the Lions have had in some time. He will do most of the punting, passing and running.

Herbert Pace and Hoyt Moncrief are two more outstanding prospects. They'll do most of the blocking tonight, Coach Avants said. Pace is a hard driving fullback and should gain plenty of ground. Cook, McBeth and Mears will share in the ball carrying.

The Lions will start a line that will average 166 pounds, but the backfield will be somewhat heavier. Jackson tips the beam at 195 and Pace at 192, thus sending the backfield's average up to 174.

The Ouachita starting lineup, with weights, was announced last night by Coach Avants as follows:

Coach Garrett had not announced the Ruston starters last night.

Officials will be Bendel (Tulane), referee; Willis (Louisiana Tech), umpire; Grafton (Louisiana Tech), head linesman; Ruple (Louisiana Tech), field judge.

Gridiron Briefs

LOUISIANA STATE

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Louisiana State's fast shaping Bengal football squad, viewed by some experts as a possible "dark horse" contender in the Southeastern conference race, polished off rough spots Thursday in a comparatively light drill after Wednesday's game-like scrimmage.

Walter Gorinski, hard-hitting first string fullback, was on the sidelines with a sore muscle while Sulcer Harris, brilliant soph halfback prospect, was nursing a pulled tooth. There were a great many aches and pains after four straight days of hard scrimmaging.

SOUTHEASTERN WINS

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 12.—(AP)—The freshman squad of Southeastern college of Hammond Thursday night defeated the Baton Rouge High school eleven 12-7 in a closely-played football game before about 6,500 fans. Proceeds were dedicated toward costs of building a defense training school here.

GEORGIA TECH

ATLANTA, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Georgia Tech may not be the most powerful team in the Southeastern conference this year, but if the beef and bump boys aren't careful, the Jackets are plain going to out run 'em.

Except at the ends and at fullback, Coach W. A. Alexander has men who can pick 'em up and put 'em down with the best. Only drawback seems to be that each has had to forego brawn in some needed spots in favor of speed simply because the weight isn't available.

At guard Tech has Ed Ryckeley, a 10-second man, and Rex Jordan, who needs no handicap from Ryckeley in a foot race. Slim Sutton and Jim Wright, centers, while not so fast as the aforementioned lads, are plenty fast for the jobs they hold. The same is true of Tackles Charlie Sanders and Jack Helms.

Neville Ends Hard Workout In Preparation For Tilt Saturday

The Neville High Tigers finished their hard workout yesterday afternoon in preparation for the tussle Saturday with the Louisiana Tech frosh. The game, the first for both teams, will be played at Ruston at 8 p. m.

Practice yesterday consisted of pass defense drill for the varsity, and at the end of the session Coach Percy Brown said his boys were "in good shape."

The four weeks the Neville High gridsters have donned football togs was climaxed Wednesday with a one-and-a-half hour scrimmage at the Neville camp. However, Coach Brown said, the second and third string teams afforded little opposition for the No. 1 squad.

Although this year's gridsters are the greenest in his 11 years of coaching at Neville High, Coach Brown yesterday was "well pleased" with the spirit of the boys. "They're young and green, but they're really trying," the Tiger coach remarked. There are 38 men on the squad, and more are expected to report for practice soon.

Neville lost 27 lettermen last year. Returning lettermen are John Luffey, Sam Ladart, Bill and Jack Dyer, Harold Winson, Franklin Rivers.

The regular schedule for the Tigers will begin in the Neville stadium next Wednesday at 8 p. m. when they tangle with Menard High of Baton Rouge. The Tigers last year defeated the Baton Rouge boys, who were champions of the Catholic High school conference that included teams from Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi.

New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Cotton prices gave up some of their early gains which had carried quotations to 12-year highs. Profit-taking and hedge selling partly discounted the reports of an approaching tropical storm of severe proportions, favorable Far Eastern developments and the Senate statement that farmers should hold their crops for a 30 cents a pound price.

Late prices were 22 to 26 points higher; October 18.08; December 18.28, and July 18.65.

A last minute wave of liquidation and profit taking, coupled with New Orleans selling on differences touched off by reaction in other commodities caused prices to react to the lowest levels of the day. Final prices were 4 to 11 points above the previous close.

SPIRIT OF REVOLT GROWS IN NORWAY

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Reports from Oslo today said a spirit of revolt against the German-supported Quisling government was growing rapidly in Norway and a gigantic conflict was indicated in the next few days with the trade unions leading the opposition to the Nazis.

The unions have about 350,000 members.

A great many persons were reported arrested at a number of places in Norway Thursday.

Ludvik Buland, vice-president of the labor federation, was sentenced to death and then pardoned by Josef Terboven, Nazi gauleiter for Norway, as official accounts said "labor peace was restored and there were no episodes of any kinds."

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Equilibrium was the word for most markets today in the wake of the president's sea-defense warning to the axis powers.

Commodities put on another burst of strength in the forenoon, with soybean and world sugar futures at record highs and cotton hitting a new 12-year peak. Profit selling on the recent run-up in this department was an unsettling influence at the last.

Stocks transfers were around 550,000 shares.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Financial markets maintained their composure today in the wake of last night's "shoot first" broadcast of the president.

Stocks generally tacked on small fractions to Thursday's recovery shift, with a few wider swings; bonds were fairly steady and commodities exhibited a fresh burst of strength. While shares inclined to slip here and there near the fourth hour, plus signs predominated. Dealings slowed after a moderately lively forenoon.

Among staples soybean and world sugar futures jumped to record highs and cotton shot up to best marks in 12 years.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—(AP)—After an early advance that carried grain prices to new peaks for the past several years, the rise in farm commodity market quotations was halted today by heavy profit taking.

Buying inspired by the president's "shoot-on-sight" speech prompted an early rise of one to almost two cents on grains, carrying wheat and corn to new highs since 1937 and oats to the best levels since 1

GENERAL LEAR'S HEADQUARTERS CAMOUFLAGED

Place Arranged To Look Exactly Like Refreshment Stand

By Jerry T. Baulch

WITH SECOND ARMY IN LOUISIANA, Sept. 12.—(AP)—People just naturally walk up and demand service—the place looks exactly like a refreshment stand. But the structure, on closer inspection, turns out to be Lieutenant-General Ben Lear's headquarters, artfully camouflaged in cloth.

It solves the problem of placing the directive headquarters of the Second army in a spot close to telephonic communications without being too conspicuous.

The make-believe soft drink stand can be moved quickly and the general with it. So it violates no secret to reveal this fact as the enemy would have to inspect every refreshment stand in Louisiana to find it.

The job brought to light the work of a heretofore highly specialized group of soldiers—the 84th Engineers battalion, the first camouflage engineer unit ever formed in the army. It is quartered regularly at Fort Belvoir, Va., and commanded by Major Ralph Lincoln.

Now, the goal of virtually every artist and sculptor taken into the army, the battalion already has 50 per cent of its personnel professionally skilled workers. Each of the nation's four armies will have similar units within the next few months.

The prize project in camouflage now under way is one by Private First Class Joseph Arasimowicz of Pittsburgh, which he calls "new fall colors for snipers' suits." This consists of baggy, pajama-like uniforms dyed varied shades of reds, browns and greens to match the seasonal foliage the sniper picks to hide in. Arasimowicz claims a man in one of these suits is almost invisible at 50 yards.

To reduce worry of soldiers sleeping in the field, Corporal Constantine Dallas of Pittsburgh, who exhibited paintings throughout the east, is trying to figure out how to camouflage a pup tent so airmen overhead can't spot it.

To cover up an entire sawmill, Corporal F. C. Bess, former Bay City, Tex., landscape gardener, has a crew busy stretching wires from tree to tree, from which bushes are suspended to look like the top of a forest.

The camouflage troops look on their jobs as those of "life savers," for they reason the less the enemy can see the soldiers the less their chance of killing them.

GOOD TRADE

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—(AP)—E. B. Bowles went to a haberdasher's to buy a hat. He removed his old lid, tried on several new ones but was displeased. Starting to leave, he reached for his old hat that wasn't there.

"Where's my hat?" he asked.

"Just sold the one on this counter," replied a startled clerk. "There goes the new owner."

"That's just dandy," grinned Bowles. He reached for a new topper and left without paying for it.

HAPPY INDIANS BACK IN KHAKI AFTER DANCING

Members Of Group At De-Ridder Paint Faces And Wear War Bonnets

By James Marlow

DERIDDER, La., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Happy Indians returned to khaki with the 45th division today after dancing with painted faces, war bonnets and tail feathers by fire in the field to keep alive their traditions, honor their ancestors and bolster army morale.

Sweat dripped from the naked chests of the full-blooded Indians last night as they whirled, sang and beat the ground with hatchets to the rhythm of a tom-tom.

Hundreds of their fellow soldiers, all part of the Third army's 250,000 men who Monday begin two weeks of maneuvers against almost an equal number of Second army troops, sat in a close-packed firelit circle to urge them on with shouts and applause.

Just as night fell, a score of Indians filed into the field behind the bivouac area, took off their uniforms, donned tribal regalia, and lit huge fires as Corporal Arnold Woodall thumped a tom-tom.

Out of hundreds of tents in the surrounding darkness, soldiers came and sat down quietly while Woodall, grandson of a Cherokee, said:

"We are going to dance because we like it. Indian ceremonies are being lost and forgotten. We are trying to keep them alive to hand on to our own children.

"Our ancestors would like it. Perhaps more important than all, we think the entertainment we provide will help keep up the morale of ourselves and the white soldiers."

The Indians had made their costumes and rehearsed the dances and songs. They could not translate the songs into English and did not know whether the words had any meaning.

Private George Hummingbird, master of ceremonies, said the Indians hold their dances in a field somewhere in the bivouac area two or three times a month, whether or not anybody watches.

"It started like this," he said. "We told the morale officer white soldiers like to play baseball. We do, too, but we would rather dance. Let us dance. The lieutenant helped us organize our dancing group. We will continue."

When Poisons Slow KIDNEYS and Irritate Bladder

Flush Them Out for 35 Cents

Go to your druggist today and get this harmless diuretic and stimulant—ask for Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules and start at once to flush kidneys of waste matter saturated with acids and poisons.

That's a prompt and effective way to help bring about more healthful kidney activity and relieve that bladder irritation with its scanty passage with smarting and burning as well as restless nights.

Remember the kidneys often need flushing as well as the bowels, and some symptoms of kidney weakness may be: getting up often during the night—puffy eyes—backache.

But be sure and get GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules—the original and genuine—the price is small (35 cents). Just see if your expectations aren't fulfilled. Refuse a substitute.

CANDIDATES WILL GO TO WASHINGTON

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Both candidates for the late Pat Harrison's seat in the United States Senate today planned to return to Washington in time for the reconvening of the House of Representatives Monday.

Neither indicated how the campaigns would be carried on during their absence or when they would return to Mississippi.

Meanwhile, a statement was promised today by Representative Ross A. Collins in answer to various charges made on the stump by Representative Wall Doxey, his opponent.

Doxey charged at Holly Springs last night that Collins was recorded as "not voting on much vital legislation including the $7,000,000,000 lease-lend fund and deportation of Harry Bridges."
